IRISH CHAMBER BARS VALERA AND HIS PARTY

New Free State Dail Starts
Session Without Fianna
Fail Party

William T. Cosgrave Re-elected President of the Executive Council

Dublin, June 23.—William T. Cosgrave was re-elected president of the Free State Executive Council by the new Dail Eireann at its first session to-day. The session was held without the participation of Eamonn de Valera and the other deputies elected on the Fianna Fail ticket, all of whom refused to take the oath of allegiance to the King.

Valera and his followers went to the Parliament Buildings, but on declining to take the oath were refused admission to the Chamber.

Michael Hayes, former speaker of the Dail, was re-elected as president of the Executive Council, a position that corresponds to Premier was proposed and seconded by members of the Government party.

Thomas Johnson, Labor leader, then called for a division on the nomination.

SUPPORT GIVEN
Patrick Bagster, chairman of the Farmers' Party, declared his party would support the Government provisionally, while Captain W. A. Redmond, National Party chief, said the largest party should form the Government.

Meanwhile Valera and his followers were wandering about outside restlessly, still refusing to take the oath.

PARTY STANDING
The line-up of parties in the new Dail, brought about by the recent general election, is as follows:

Government Party (excluding the Speaker): 46; Fianna Fail: 44; Labor: 23; Independents: 14; Farmers: 11; National League: 8; Sinn Fein: 6; Independent Republican: 1.

LEADERS BELIEVE NAVY REDUCTION PACT IS POSSIBLE

At Geneva Viscount Cecil and Hugh Gibson Discuss British and U.S. Plans

Geneva, June 23.—Viscount Cecil, British delegate to the Three-power Naval Conference here, and Hugh S. Gibson, chief of the United States delegation at a private meeting to-day discussed the proposals of their respective countries for further naval limitations.

No advance toward an eventual agreement was made at the conference, the most reliable information being that both confined themselves to an explanation and defense of the proposals of their governments.

AGREEMENT DESIRED
Mr. Gibson, who was accompanied by Allen W. Dulles, juridical expert for the United States delegation, emerging from the meeting, told newspapermen, however, that there was no reason to be optimistic about the outcome of the conference.

He said the peoples of the United States, Great Britain and Japan all were anxious to find an agreement and were convinced that only patience and goodwill among the delegates were needed finally to work out a common basis for an accord.

ATTITUDE OF U.S.
Questioned by a British correspondent as to Washington's course in agreeing to private conversations at the conference and proclamation of divergencies in public without having negotiations in London and Tokyo confidentially in advance in an endeavor to work out some sort of an agreement beforehand, Mr. Gibson answered that such a procedure would have provoked a general outcry because it would have indicated the United States was proceeding openly for the discussion of the various problems involved.

HOUSE OF LORDS DEBATE SOON IN BRITISH COMMONS

London, June 23.—Rt. Hon. John R. Clynes, Acting Leader of the Opposition, indicated in the House of Commons to-day that the Laborites intended moving a vote of censure against the Government for its proposed reform of the House of Lords, in order to force a debate on the question in the Commons.

TO-DAY IS BIRTH ANNIVERSARY OF PRINCE OF WALES

London, June 23.—Government buildings and clubs in the west end of London flew flags to-day in honor of the thirty-third birthday of the Prince of Wales, this being the time-honored custom of recognizing the birthday of the heir to the throne.

The Prince was to have the usual luncheon with the royal family, at which he was to receive his gifts.

The question the public is constantly asking—When is the Prince going to get married?—dropped out guardedly in the editorial comment of one newspaper, but the Prince is saying nothing on the subject.

The Prince of Wales was born at White Lodge, Richmond Park, June 23, 1894.

Airman Reported Missing is Safe At Aeroplane Field

Spokane, June 23.—Harry Dallas, a visitor, who was reported lost while attempting to fly over the Cascade Mountains to Seattle, is at the Pasco, Wash., airport, according to a wire received by his mother, Mrs. E. C. Dallas, of Coeur d'Alene, Idaho.

WILHELM PLAYS PHENOMENAL GOLF

Bon Stein, Crack Seattle
Player, Six Down at the Halfway Mark To-day

Rudy Wilhelm played phenomenal golf this morning and had Bon Stein six down at the halfway mark in the third round of the P.N.G.A. amateur championship at Colwood.

Frank Dolp and Dr. O. F. Willing alternated in winning holes, and they both bungled putts on the eighteenth hole, leaving the former one up at the end of the first round.

Roy Moe finished five up on Freddie Wood, while Russ Smith and Don Moe halved the last four holes and the Weaver player remained one up.

Rudy started off like a streak, winning two of the first three holes and collecting a wonderful birdie three on the third. They halved the next three holes and then Wilhelm nearly sank his tee shot, eventually holing his putt for a two to Stein's three.

Another fine birdie on the eighth meant another hole. Rudy finished off with a par in the ninth hole to reach the turn in 23, two under par.

Their scores for the first nine holes were as follows:

Par out 44 54 344—35
Wilhelm, out 44 35 234—33
Stein, out 54 35 354—40

Frank Dolp and Dr. Willing were staging a real battle with honors even at the end of the first nine.

Some of the results in the flight matches were as follows:

Fourth Flight
Dr. Harvey Smith defeated H. P. Pratt, 5 and 4.

Fifth Flight
T. Owens defeated S. Haynes, 5 and 3.
F. Balcom defeated A. Smith, 4 and 3.

Colorado Winner At Newbury To-day

Newbury, Eng., June 23 (Canadian Press Cable).—Lord Derby's four-year-old colt Colorado won the Newbury Summer Cup here this afternoon by four lengths from W. Singer's Grassmoor. Sol Joel's Pons Ashmorum was third, another length back. Ten ran.

Colorado started at 7 to 5, Grassmoor at 100 to 1 and Pons Ashmorum at 11 to 2.

The winner, which won the 2,000 guineas last year and was third in last year's Derby, is by Phalaris, out of Can-you.

328 CONVICTS IN COAL MINE STAGE MUTINY

Barricaded Themselves in Kansas Pit Tuesday Forenoon; Hold Fifteen Guards

Have Only Oats as Food; Demand is For Cigarettes
Daily in Jail

Lansing, Kansas, June 23.—Oats served as rations for inmates to-day constituted the only food known to be available to 328 convicts and their fourteen captive guards barricaded in the prison coal mine here since 11 o'clock Tuesday morning.

As the mutineers passed their forty-fifth hour underground, there was nothing but oatmeal for the prisoners to eat. Possibility that the men would butcher the mules as they threatened during a previous mutiny was scouted by Deputy Warden E. H. Hudepeth in charge.

With the convicts holding out in the mine, there was a pre-arranged demonstration Tuesday night by 310 prisoners in cell House B, the plan being to burn the prison twine factory. The uprising was quickly quelled, however, when the deputy warden opened fire on the rioting convicts after one guard had been stabbed.

POLICE CHIEFS ARE ADDRESSED BY JUDGE

Officers of Canadian Cities
Hold Annual Convention in Vancouver

Vancouver, June 23.—Following closely upon criticism yesterday by Magistrate H. C. Shaw before the annual convention of Association of Police Chiefs of Canada here, directed against judges of higher courts for quashing convictions on technicalities, an address by Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald of the Supreme Court of British Columbia, in which he pointed out upon this subject was received to-day with keen interest by the 240 delegates.

LIFE SENTENCES FOR THREE D'AUTREMONTS

In Oregon Two Plead Guilty to Murders; Brother Sentenced
Earlier

Medford, Ore., June 23.—Ray and Roy d'Autremont to-day entered a plea of guilty and pleaded for mercy. Siskiyou train hold-up in 1923, in which four men were killed. In court they reversed their plea of not guilty which had been entered earlier this week.

The d'Autremont twins were sentenced to life imprisonment.

When their plea of guilty was made it was discovered the judge would be compelled under the law to inflict the death penalty. Thereupon a jury was hastily empaneled.

QUESTIONS BEFORE ARRESTS
The time for the police officers to secure information by questioning was declared by the speaker. He declared the officer was free to question whom he pleased. After an arrest the police should refrain altogether from questioning the accused, but should take careful note of anything he said after being warned. A guilty person would probably say something which would militate against him. On the other hand, there had been many instances in which innocent persons had made statements which hurt their chances when the case came to trial. In giving evidence police must be careful not to add to or "flavor" statements made by accused persons, said Mr. Justice Macdonald.

SEAPLANE DISASTER IS INVESTIGATED

One Man Lost Life Off California Coast and One Missing;
One Swam Ashore

San Diego, Cal., June 23.—Lieut. Thomas Fisher, who after a nine-hour swim got ashore following the crash of the United States naval torpedo plane in which he and three companions were flying off Laguna Beach Tuesday night, was recovering here to-day from his injuries, which included a bad blow on the head, and from the effects of his hard struggle for life. Meanwhile an inquiry has been started to determine the cause of the crash.

Authorities here early to-day awaited word from the north with regard to the possible identification of the body which was washed ashore near the scene of the accident late yesterday. The body was thought here to be that of Charles K. Robbins, chief machinist of the plane, who was a passenger in civilian clothes on the plane.

Meanwhile word was anxiously awaited as to the fate of Lieut. Commander William S. Hector, operation officer of North Island Naval Air Station, who was the third man aboard the plane on its trip to San Diego from Crescent City.

MAKES EUROPEAN JOURNEY INCOGNITO; KING ALFONSO

KING OF SPAIN TO VISIT GREAT BRITAIN

Alfonso Travels From Madrid
to London For Brief Stay

Madrid, June 23.—King Alfonso, who departed quietly and incognito from here for London last night, was to have been accompanied by Queen Victoria as well as the Infanta Beatrice, but the illness of Prince Alfonso and the recurrent reports linking the name of the Infanta with that of the Prince of Wales have caused the King to go to London alone, or, perhaps, postpone the departure of the Queen and the Infanta.

King Alfonso left without even a guard of honor at the station. General Primo de Rivera was present, but wore a peasant's frock over his uniform in order to avoid being recognized.

The Infanta Beatrice yesterday celebrated her eighteenth birthday.

TO TEST POWERS OF DRY SQUAD

Supreme Court Ruling Sought
on Vancouver Liquor Raid
Case

A Supreme Court ruling on search powers of dry squad officers in British Columbia is sought through an application filed in the Supreme Court registry this morning for J. B. Williams, City Solicitor of Vancouver in the case of Manning v. Nickerson in which damages of $850 were awarded against Alfonso Nickerson, dry squad officer.

After a search of the premises of George Herbert Manning and Patsy Ann Manning at 577 Eighth Avenue East Vancouver, for illicit liquor when none was found on the premises, the Manning started action for malicious prosecution and were successful.

The City of Vancouver carried the case to the B.C. Appeal Court and the B.C. Appeal Court, and the City of Vancouver and the Province of British Columbia, it is understood, will share the cost of the appeal.

CRUISER KILLED 1,668 SEA LIONS

Vancouver, June 23.—With a bag of 1,668 sea lions, the fisheries protection cruiser Ginchy has returned here after seventeen days' shooting on the Virgin and Pearl Shoals in the Queen Charlotte Islands. In 1926 the number killed was 1,956, and in 1925 the bag was 2,827.

"The number is steadily decreasing as a result of our efforts in the past seven years, I believe," Captain A. M. Henderson said to-day.

Times Confederation Issue To Form Unique Record Of British Columbia's Growth

British Columbia's development since the days of Confederation has never been shown in a single publication so graphically as in the Confederation number of The Times to be issued next Saturday.

Little known but intensely interesting facts collected through lengthy investigations of old records, are produced in the edition to contrast the present condition of British Columbia with the period since Confederation. No British Columbian can fail to find inspiration in this amazing story of development.

To paint the achievements of modern industry in this Province, The Times has compiled a remarkable series of articles, profusely illustrated. Each of these, comprising a page or more, is prepared in attractive form, and so summarized as to be easily read. Every phase of the Province's business growth is pictured in the edition, which traces also the advancement of the original settlements, with their primitive way of living, into modern cities equipped with every modern comfort and advantage.

The Confederation edition will have a circulation wider than any ever attempted by a Victoria newspaper.

MAN ACCUSED OF WINNIPEG MURDERS SENT UP FOR TRIAL

Earl Nelson, Committed by Magistrate, is to Face Assize
July 7 to 26

Deaths of Lola Cowan and
Mrs. Emily Patterson Are Basis of Charges

Winnipeg, June 23.—Earl Nelson, the man of many aliases and alleged to be the "Dark Stranger," to-day was committed to stand trial on a charge of having murdered Lola Cowan, fourteen-year-old "flower girl," in Winnipeg, the magistrate's order coming at the close of the preliminary hearing of the prisoner on the first charge of a double slaying indictment.

Nelson was positively identified by a double witness as the man who had rented the room in which the body of the child was found and as the walker picked up by a number of motorists, whose description tallied with that broadcast by the police of the fugitive stranger.

SECOND CHARGE
Immediately after his commitment on the first charge, evidence was taken to link the prisoner up with the murder of Mrs. Emily Patterson, twenty-seven-year-old choir singer, and mother of two children, whose bruised body was found by stranger under a bed in her home, where it was found by the widow.

Nelson's trial in the higher court has been fixed for July 26.

STROGLY GUARDED
Special measures were taken by the police to guard the prisoner in the courtroom and on the way to and from it.

It was learned yesterday Nelson had made a threat to escape if ever afforded the opportunity and mind of his successful break from the jail at Killarney, Manitoba, the police immediately increased their vigilance.

IN SILENT MOOD
Nelson, who at times had been in a light mood, yesterday became sullen and showed signs of restlessness. Throughout the day he paced his cell or sat on his cot with his head buried in his hands. The prisoner, who had previously maintained an air of defiance and unconcern, had no patience with his guards, and except on one or two occasions merely grunted in response to questions.

He was asked to get up and take a cigarette from one of his guards and later requested he might be shaved so as to "appear respectable" at the preliminary hearing to-day.

EXTRAORDINARY SUGGESTED
Proceedings for the extradition of Nelson on the part of police departments in Philadelphia and Buffalo were reported in dispatches received here to-day, but according to Hon. W. J. Major, Attorney-General of Manitoba, justice will take its course here regardless of these requests.

THREE DEATHS IN COLLISION OF SHIPS

Twenty-nine Rescued When Trawler Sank Off Massachusetts;
Freighter Beached

Truro, Mass., June 23.—Three members of the crew of the steam trawler Surge, operated by the Bay State Fishing Company of Boston, were missing and believed drowned after she had been sunk in collision with the Clyde Line steamship Oskar five miles off this section of Cape Cod early to-day.

The twenty-nine others were rescued by the Oskar, which was damaged and beached 1,500 yards off the Pama River Coastguard station.

Two of the rescued fishermen have severe cuts on their heads.

The collision occurred during a heavy fog. A large boat was smashed in the side of the Oskar and she was reported to have about twenty-five feet of water in her forward hold.

The Oskar, a freighter, was bound from Jacksonville, Fla., for Boston.

MOUNTAIN HIKER SUFFERS INJURY

B. Weinborn Lies Nearly Four Days on Hill at North
Vancouver

Vancouver, June 23.—Benjamin Weinborn, whose search parties scoured Grouse and Goat Mountains here after he was reported missing Sunday, is safe. He made his way to the chalet on Grouse Mountain this morning.

For nearly four days he was compelled to remain, unable to walk, in Seymour Canyon, with an injured knee. Since Monday morning he had had nothing to eat. Weinborn injured his knee when he fell twenty feet through honeycombed snow while taking a picture at 11:30 Sunday morning.

Continued bathing with melted snow had its effect, and he was able to set out this morning for the chalet.

Weinborn had blankets with him and said he was comparatively comfortable. The peak of Grouse Mountain is 600 feet above the level of the Chalet.

MISS BY SEARCHERS
The reason Weinborn was not discovered by the various search parties was because he was on the east side of the peak and out of sight.

Weinborn put an end to reports that he was accompanied on his trip by another youth. He stated that after leaving the Chalet on Sunday he spoke to one young man on the trail. This youth he believed to be a Swiss, who afterwards went to walk.

Describing his experience, Weinborn said: "Just as I was not for the picture the snow gave way."

"I floundered about trying to get a foothold, but the snow was honeycombed so badly that I just dashed down towards the edge of the precipice and fortunately my fall into the ravine, about 1,000 feet below, was stopped by a huge tree. I came against that tree with great force and was stunned at the moment of impact, and when I saw what I had escaped by a very narrow margin. I was for the first time in my life scared stiff."

UNABLE TO WALK
"When I stood up I found I could not walk. I had hurt my knee."

"Finally, as night drew in I knew I was finished for that day so I drew my blankets over me and went to sleep. I had one small sandwich. There was plenty of water. From Monday morning until this morning I took a liquid diet. It was water and more water. Monday, Tuesday and until yesterday afternoon, when the pain in my knee was unbearable, I am sure I lived several times or else the gnawing hunger together with the dry air, made me drowsy, as I slept a tremendous amount."

NEW U.S.-FRENCH TREATY IS PLANNED

Ambassador Herrick, Visiting
Washington, Will Discuss
Anti-war Pact

Paris, June 23.—Myron T. Herrick, United States Ambassador to France, is on his way home aboard the French liner Ile de France, which sailed from Paris yesterday afternoon. The Ambassador will take up with the Government at Washington the proposed Franco-American treaty to make war impossible between the two countries.

M. Briand, French Foreign Minister, first suggested such a treaty on his own responsibility in a message to the people of the United States through the Associated Press on April last, and the treaty has become the subject of official negotiations. On Tuesday evening Sheldon Whitehouse, Charge d'Affaires in the absence of the Ambassador, called and received certain suggestions from the French Government as to the method of procedure.

NO GAP IN NEGOTIATIONS
Ambassador Herrick has a memorandum of these suggestions with him, but their exact nature has not been disclosed. It is assumed in French political circles that negotiations will now proceed earnestly, but leisurely, until an agreement is reached.

It is expected little will be accomplished here during the summer on account of the absence of the United States Ambassador and the necessity of M. Briand recuperating from his present illness, but it is forecast progress will be made soon after Mr. Herrick returns with Washington's reaction on the suggestions handed over by the French Foreign Office yesterday.

B.C. RAIL LAND INQUIRY MOVES ON TO OTTAWA

Some Persons Have Wrong
Ideas About Commission's Scope, Judge Says

Mr. Justice W. M. Martin's Royal Commission, investigating B.C.'s claims for a return of railway lands, to-day completed hearing the British Columbia argument and adjourned to meet in Ottawa later in the year to hear the Dominion's case to be presented by Hon. Lucien Carron, Solicitor-General, and A. B. Macdonald.

Some persons have had wrong ideas about the scope of the commission, said Mr. Justice Martin before adjournment, who read the terms of his commission. He declared this was not a "better terms" commission.

"This commission was appointed as a result of the representations of the Government of British Columbia to deal with the specific subjects set out and as such it has developed largely into a matter of legal argument," Mr. Justice Martin said. "There is no comparison of this commission with the Maritimes Commission, which was of a roving character and out to hear everyone. That Maritimes Commission had to deal with the loss of population and depression in business. This commission has to deal with specific subjects."

ARGUMENT FOR PROVINCE
C. W. Craig, K.C., counsel for presenting the case of the Province, with Attorney-General Manson, completed his argument at noon to-day.

"The policy of the Government at the time the terms of union were agreed upon was that the road should be built by large land grants and small subsidies in cash," Mr. Craig said in his summary. "But the railway was built with cash subsidies of $63,000,000, plus $10,000,000 of a loan, which was forgiven and which brought the total cash subsidy up to $73,000,000 and of which British Columbia has had to bear its total cost."

"We submit that Ontario also was to have made a land grant of 9,000,000 acres which was not done."

"Instead of the total grant for the railway being 25,000,000 acres, it was reduced to 18,000,000 acres, the grant by British Columbia should have been reduced accordingly, which was not done."

CANADIAN FOOTBALL PLAYERS WERE HURT IN NEW ZEALAND

Auckland, N.Z., June 23.—While exercising on the beach at Dunedin in preparation for the first test match on Saturday, four of the Canadian soccer team were placed here de combat, although none of them are in a serious condition. Pogson collided with a pile and had to be taken to a hospital, while Koseroff, Turvey and Graham received minor injuries which necessitated medical attention. It is expected all four players will be fit again in a few days.

Clearings for the corresponding week of last year were $2,202,618.

AFFAIRS OF EMPIRE DEBATED AT CHICAGO

Sir Cecil Hurst Tells Audience
About Great Britain and Dominions

Chicago, June 23 (Canadian Press).—Describing the British Empire as a strange complex, a heterogeneous collection of separate entities, which is yet a political unit, Sir Cecil Hurst, legal adviser to the British Foreign Office, began a series of lectures before the Norman Watt-Harris Memorial Foundation Institute at the University of Chicago to-day. Sir Cecil is the British delegate to this year's institute, which is devoting its session to problems of the British Empire.

J. W. Dafoe of Winnipeg is the Canadian delegate to the conference. Australia, South Africa and the Irish Free State are also represented.

WITHOUT PRECEDENT
Sir Cecil Hurst urged his audience to bear in mind the fact that the British Empire was wholly unprecedented, that it had no written constitution, that it was of quite recent growth and of amazingly rapid development. The Empire was not comparable with any empire of the past, or with any great existing nation, because in every case their strength lay in the central government, while with these nations the internal policies of each affected the whole Empire.

In addition to five big self-governing dominions, he said, there were numerous less autonomous countries like Newfoundland and Southern Rhodesia, which really controlled their own destinies. Then followed India, a huge dependency, which was on the road to the status of a fully self-governing nation, whose "rapidity of progress in that direction lies in her own hands."

OBITUARY

Impressive funeral services were held yesterday over Victor Joseph L. Basso, who was drowned at Pike Lake on Sunday last. A large congregation of sympathizing friends attended at the Sands Funeral Chapel for the services conducted by Rev. J. P. Westman. The hymns sung were "Abide With Me" and "Forever With the Lord." Many beautiful flowers covered the casket, requiring an extra car to convey them to the cemetery. The pallbearers were William Blair, E. Viggers.

MRS. CHAPLIN HAS MADE DEPOSITION

Comedian's Attorneys Not Yet Satisfied; Another Action Mooted

Los Angeles, June 23.—Lita Grey Chaplin, late yesterday completed her deposition in the offices of her husband's attorneys, Lloyd Wright and Gavin McNab, which they had requested for use in her divorce suit against Charlie Chaplin, and in the latter's cross-complaint. Trial of the suit has been set for two months from today, August 22.

The attorneys indicated that Mrs. Chaplin failed to answer some questions asked, and that another court action might follow in which request will be made that she be ordered to answer.

It was learned that Chaplin's attorneys have had issued several summonses and subpoenas for witnesses whose testimony may be wanted either in depositions before the trial or during the latter. Indications were given that these persons included some widely known in Hollywood film circles.

MRS. PHILBRICK BEATS CHAMPION

Victoria Star Defeated Mrs. Reigel 3 and 1 in Second Round of P.N.W. Tourney

Mrs. Philbrick continued her "giant-killing" habit of yesterday in her second round match, this morning in the P.N.W. women's golf championship when she defeated Mrs. Reigel, the defending champion, 3 and 1.

Mrs. Reigel led the first few holes, but Mrs. Philbrick soon squared the match and won two up at the turn. The Victoria lady profited by the poor putting of her opponent.

Mrs. Sweeny, of Vancouver, laid Miss Florrie Ayton two strokes on the last two holes to nose out her young Mainland opponent one up.

Mrs. Reed, the medalist, defeated Mrs. Wolverson 5 and 4, while Mrs. Hutchinson defeated Mrs. Jackson one up.

Two Victoria ladies will be seen in the semi-finals to be played tomorrow and both have a fine chance of securing the title.

WAGE LEVEL HIGH, PRICE LEVEL LOW

Montreal, June 23.—So far as the Canadian laborer is concerned, with wages in various industries ranging from 60-95 per cent above the 1913 level, according to the report of the Department of Labor, Wages and Hours of Labor in Canada, the present general price level gives labor much greater buying power than was characteristic in 1913, the Royal Bank of Canada says in a report on the financial situation in Canada. Should retail prices show any decline comparable to that which has taken place in wholesale prices, it will result in a substantial increase in the real wages of labor.

The price situation in Canada is very similar to that in the United States. According to the Federal Reserve Bulletin for May, 1927, the wholesale price index of the United States Labor Bureau fell from 135 in February, 1926 to 146 in February, 1927. Since both countries are on a gold basis and since each country buys a substantial proportion of the other's exports, the price levels of both countries are bound to rise or fall together. For this reason, Canadians are justifiably concerned with methods that are being used in the United States to maintain stability during the present period of falling prices, the bank says.

Ladies Join Men In Big Luncheon To Hear Cannon

Victorians will welcome the first Cabinet Minister from Ottawa to visit the city this year when Hon. Lucien Cannon, Solicitor-General of Canada and Acting Minister of Justice, to-morrow when Hon. Mr. Cannon will be the guest of honor at a public confederation anniversary luncheon at the Empress Hotel at 12:15 o'clock. Hon. Mr. Cannon, who is known as the silver-tongued orator of the East, will deliver an address. Stephen Jones will preside. The luncheon is being given under the auspices of the Laurier Club, with whom the Women's Forum is co-operating.

This is the first big luncheon of the year here at which women have been able to join the men at the tables.

Saturday Mr. Cannon is to be a guest of the Vancouver Laurier Club and will address a Vancouver audience in the evening. He will remain on the coast for only a week for his duties call him to Ottawa.

In addition to his own department, Mr. Cannon is at present carrying on in the place of Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, now in Australia.

Tickets for the luncheon to-morrow are on sale at the Dominion Hotel, Ivel's Pharmacy, L. U. Conyers & Company, Bishop & Worthington and Macleod & Company. They may also be obtained to-morrow at the door.

COURT RULING ON DEEP-SEA RAFTS

B.C. Judge Says G. G. Davis of Portland Was Inventor of the Davis Log Raft

Vancouver, June 23.—Finding that Gilbert G. Davis of Portland, Ore., was the inventor of the Davis Raft, Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald in the Supreme Court here has granted the Davis Log Raft Patents Company and the Davis Ocean Log Rafting and Towing Company of Portland an injunction which restrains the defendants, William E. Cathels and Charles Sorenson, loggers of Victoria, from infringing the plaintiffs' patents.

The judge stated that if counsel could not agree on the amount of damages, there would be a reference to the registrar to determine that question.

GRANTED PATENTS
Davis patented his invention of binding logs together into a raft for deep-sea transportation on February 25, 1913, and September 24, 1918, in Canada.

The patents subsequently were assigned to the Davis Log Raft Patents Company and the latter authorized the Davis Ocean Log Rafting and Towing Company to use the invention.

Without any license from the plaintiffs, Cathels and Sorenson, it was alleged, constructed Davis rafts and did not pay royalties on the patents. The claim was contested on the grounds that Davis was not the first inventor and that the Davis raft was not a patentable device.

IN COURTROOM MAN STRUCK BY WOMAN

Unusual Scene Follows Breach-of-promise Trial in Portland, Oregon

Portland, Ore., June 23.—Courtroom attaches two stories away from the scene of the disturbance were awakened rudely from summer reveries yesterday when Mrs. Mattie Sanders, plaintiff in a $20,000 heart balm suit, having lost the action, suddenly gave tongue to a hysterical shriek and commenced hectoring Julius Lampart, the defendant, with an umbrella.

The attack was made in the courtroom when Lampart had paused to thank and shake the hands of the twelve jurors who had decided Lampart had better remain single and keep his money.

The sight proved too much for Mrs. Sanders. Screaming shrilly, she darted at Lampart and before anyone could interfere had planted several sharp whacks upon the shoulders of the man who, she told the jury, had asked her to be his wife.

For a second time the jurors saved Lampart. Mrs. Sanders was removed from the courtroom screaming.

GRADUATES NAMED TO TEACHING POSTS

City School Board Fills Four Vacancies in Staffs at Graded Schools

Four appointments to vacancies in the graded schools of Victoria were notified by the City School Board last night. Miss Dorothy Morton is appointed to teach junior grade subjects; Miss Winnifred Elliott, primary grade; James McKenzie and A. W. Johns, instructors in grades six and seven.

The appointments were made on recommendations advanced to the board last night, and the appointees, in the main, are graduates of the Provincial Normal School. Consideration of matters in relation to the teaching staff and final details in connection with the break-up of the schools to-morrow occupied the board at its session last night.

REPAIRS FINISHED ON C.P.R. VESSEL

Princess Victoria Will Resume Service June 29; Damaged in Collision

Repairs to the Ss. Princess Victoria, which was damaged in collision with the Princess Marguerite in Vancouver Harbor last month, have been completed, it was announced at Yarrow's Limited this morning and the vessel will be released from the plant to-morrow.

The Victoria was hauled out on the marine railway at Yarrow's to-day for cleaning and painting. She has been at the repair wharf now for three weeks having her port quarter repaired. Considerable damage was done to her above the water line at this point when the collision occurred.

The Victoria will resume service in the night run between Victoria and Vancouver on June 29. It was announced at the B.C. Coast Steamship Company's offices this morning.

REDUCED TAX ON CIGARETTES URGED

Tariff Board of Canada Asked to Recommend Rate of $3 a Thousand

Ottawa, June 23.—The cigarette stamp tax reduction application to the Tariff Advisory Board stands adjourned until next Fall. W. H. Moore, chairman of the board, at the conclusion of yesterday's sitting, stated a date for the further hearing of this matter would be named as soon as possible. The application, Imperial Tobacco Co. Ltd. of Montreal, would likely then be asked to submit whatever further evidence the board desired in support of the company's request for a reduction in the stamp tax from $6 to $3 a thousand.

During the hearing yesterday David A. Peterson told the board 600,000,000 cigarettes were smuggled into Canada each year. The result of this smuggling was a net loss in revenue to the Dominion of $2,500,000 annually, he said.

FROM UNITED STATES

Little organized commercial smuggling existed, continued Mr. Peterson, but cigarettes were brought in by private individuals from the United States, where cheaper cigarettes could be obtained by reason of the fact that the United States stamp duty was only $3 a thousand. It was desired, he continued, to increase the consumption of Canadian cigarettes in place of those of United States manufacture, prevent smuggling and reduce the number of consumers who "roll their own."

The effect would be a large increase in the revenue derived by the Government.

FOR TEN CENTS

"Canada needs ten-cent packages of cigarettes and if the people of this country could get ten-cent packages of cigarettes, the smuggling would automatically stop," H. B. Hyman, president of S. Hyman and Company, retailers, Montreal, informed the board in supporting the application.

RHODES DINNER IS EVENT IN LONDON

London, June 23.—(Canadian Press Cable via Reuters)—Lord Leveson presided at a dinner here last night given by the Rhodes Trustees in honor of the Rhodes scholars who will leave Oxford University at the end of the present term.

Prominent guests at the dinner included Lieut.-Colonel L. S. Amery, Secretary of State for Dominion Affairs; Baron Byng of Vimy, former Governor-General of Canada; and Herbert Baker, who was associated with Cecil Rhodes in South Africa. Sir Robert Borden, who has been lecturing at the University of Oxford, declared amid cheers that Baron Byng had been appointed to a perpetual fellowship in the Dominion of Canada.

LEADERS WANTED

Baron Byng, in proposing a toast to the Rhodes scholars, prefaced his remarks by saying: "It is not easy to be good courage to-day." He declared the world wanted leaders with idealism, magnetism and power of command, and added that great figures in history had been brought to the fore by democracy but had become the finest of autocrats. He eloquently pleaded for personality in Rhodes scholars, as against stereotyped forms. The toast was responded to by Rhodes Scholar of Australia, who, on behalf of the Dominions, dealt with the question of the age at which Rhodes scholars should take up their scholarships. He advocated sending the scholars when they had had some experience in life beyond the limits of school life.

F. W. Fember, vice-chancellor of Oxford University, warned the scholars not to consider their scholarships just as money prizes to enable them to have a good time or to obtain the label of an Oxford degree, but to regard them as assisting in realizing the Rhodes ideal of unity of the English-speaking race.

Pope Talks With Canadian Labor Congress Secretary
Rome, June 23.—P. M. Draper, secretary-treasurer of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, was granted a private audience yesterday by Pope Pius, who conversed with the visitor in a most cordial manner.

Mr. Draper explained to His Holiness the workings of the international trades union movement in Canada and the United States, the Pope being very pleased to learn of the progress and prosperity of the laboring classes in those countries.

Turning to Mr. Draper, the Pope said: "Please take my apostolic benediction to all Canadian workers."

TO VISIT LONDON
Mr. Draper was received by Premier Mussolini last evening before leaving for Paris, where he will be received by the French Minister of Labor. He will then continue his homeward journey, going to London, where he will interview leading Labor and Government officials prior to embarking on the steamship Montclair.

House of Lords Debates Reform

London, June 23.—Divergence of opinion regarding the ultimate effects of the Government's proposals to reform the House of Lords developed in yesterday's debate.

The "die hard" Duke of Northumberland favored the proposals. If the present opportunity for reforming the House were lost the Lords were unlikely to get another, he said, and the House must remain the last line of defence against tyranny. Lord Astor, another Conservative, urged the transformation from hereditary to a nominated House should be gradual.

Lord Beauchamp, Liberal leader in the House of Lords, opposing, said the proposals would enhance the power of the Lords unless vitally modified.

Lord Birkenhead made it clear the Government intended to introduce a reform bill during the lifetime of the present Parliament.

PRINCETON SENDING GEOLOGISTS TO B.C.

Among the important parties of travelers which will visit British Columbia during the coming months perhaps none equals that of the Princeton University Summer School of Geology, which is touring the entire Dominion and will spend the better part of a week studying geological features of this Province.

Headed by Dr. R. M. Field of the department of geology at Princeton University about twenty-five men, all interested in meteorology and geology, will arrive in Vancouver from Jasper National Park via Canadian National Railway on July 30. Following a stay of two days at Jasper the party will reach Vancouver, crossing to Vancouver Island, where they will be guests of the Provincial Department of Mines and will be shown something of the formations on the lower part of the Island.

Returning to the mainland on August 2 the party will be entertained by the Chamber of Mines. Alderman Frank Woodside is trying to arrange a trip to Britannia mine. This trip would be under the supervision of Dr. S. J. Schofield of the University of British Columbia. The party purposes spending a day in and around Copper Creek Station on the Canadian National line prior to departure for the East.

STRAWBERRY MEN REFUSE TRADE PRICE

Vancouver, June 23.—The strawberry deadlock as between the Water Street jobbers and the Maple Ridge and Haney growers remains unbroken. The former declining to pay $2.25 a crate and the latter refusing to sell for less. For the third day practically no berries from Maple Ridge and Haney have come on the Water Street market. The fruit pickings having been sent to the canneries.

The broker handling the berries from these areas reports that the growers are showing great indifference to the Vancouver market and do not care much whether they handle any more crate berries or not.

A limited quantity of berries came in from Lulu Island and according to the jobbers were available at $2.25 a crate. Small supplies from that area are expected day by day for some time.

Wholesale quotations are from $2.50 to $2.75 a crate. No berries were received from Vancouver Island, all of that crop being shipped in carload lots to the prairies. It is only when there may be a quantity more than the prairie market can immediately absorb that Victoria sends them to Vancouver.

It is estimated that more than half of the strawberry trade is now handled by the Orient Express in growing, but in the distribution. The growers bring them to the Pender Street wholesale houses and the retail Oriental stores get the supplies direct from there.

Small quantities of berries grown by "whites" are sent to Water Street jobbers direct on consignment. Most of the Burnaby berries are handled by the Water Street houses. The Burnaby crop will be ready in a few days.

GERMAN VIEWS ON NAVAL CONFERENCE

Berlin, June 23.—Utmost importance is attached in Germany to the sessions of the naval disarmament conference at Geneva. The mere fact of the willingness of three great sea powers, the British Empire, the United States and Japan, to avoid competition in armaments against each other is deemed by some as sufficient guarantee for a slackening of naval armaments.

The Boersen Zeitung, however, declares: "Not for the salvation of humanity from the dogs of war on sea will the fight be carried on at Geneva, but for the domination of the sea under the protection of warships and other weapons. If the issue of this fight is no armed navies, it will be the final signal for increased armaments and another world war."

The same paper describes the United States programme of a "navy second to none" as a dangerous factor for the ensuing struggle, adding: "Great Britain will not voluntarily concede to another power the sharing of her naval supremacy, which for three and a half centuries she has denied others in numerous pugnacious wars."

ELECTION IN ROMANIA
Bucharest, June 23.—The Cabinet formed yesterday by Ion Bratiano for the purpose of conducting the forthcoming general election is expected to resign as soon as the election is held, probably some time next month. M. Bratiano, who is leader of the Liberal Party, formed his Cabinet after the resignation of the ministry of Prince Stila, which broke down when negotiations between the Liberals and the National Peasants' Party failed.

CHIEFS OF POLICE HEAR MAGISTRATE

H. C. Shaw Addresses Annual Convention of Canadian Officers in Vancouver

Vancouver, June 23.—Criticism of Supreme Court and County Court judges who quash important convictions on technicalities of law without due consideration of the seriousness of the crimes involved, was made by Police Magistrate H. C. Shaw of Vancouver, at yesterday's session of the twenty-third annual convention of the Chief Constables' Association of Canada here. Fripperies and flummeries of higher courts were all right to impress the public, stated Magistrate Shaw. County courts also lent more impressiveness to jurisdiction, but in stressing the importance of co-operation of police officers with judges and magistrates he declared it should be greatest with the latter, who dealt with crime and not laws.

RECORD IN 1925

Of indictable cases in Canada in 1925, only five per cent were tried in assize courts, sixteen per cent in county courts, and seventy-nine per cent by magistrates, said the speaker. Because of the importance of these lower courts, police officials should show greater co-operation with magistrates, he declared.

In discussing the increase of crime, Magistrate Shaw declared lenient sentences were often responsible. Such treatment, he characterized as "coddling criminals."

"The only method is just punishment which will not encourage them in crime," he said. "Use common sense and the basis of Magna Charta, which declared that 'no man will be sold justice, to no man will we deny justice,' and do not pay so much attention to punctuation and look too close for little technicalities."

SCIENTIFIC METHODS

Among the questions which come within the scope of the deliberations of the convention yesterday were crime, its deep-rooted causes in human nature and social conditions; the mechanism of its detection, its punishment and cure; the handling of convicted criminals; the development, training and administration of police officers who have those problems daily before them.

Luke May, Seattle criminologist and president of the Northwest Association of Sheriffs and Police, thrilled the veterans of police departments from every province of Canada with his absorbing account of the miracles of the laboratory in crime detection from such slim clues as a dropped match, a shred of fabric caught on a window sill, the measurement of the nicks on the blade of a knife, the identification of a strand of hair, a fingerprint located on the inner wings of a pistol.

Development of scientific methods of crime detection and co-ordination of all law enforcement agencies through central state and provincial bureaus was his message.

OUR UP-TO-DATE TOWNS

VISITORS FROM OLDER COUNTRIES
who tour Canada are often struck by almost every variety of modern convenience to be found in Canadian towns of two or three thousand inhabitants. They go back to their own lands and tell their own people about these things and in not a few cases they are very nearly accused of telling fairy tales.

We are reminded of the progress Canada has made in the provision of comforts for her people, how in particular British Columbia has progressed—although still alluded to in some parts of Great Britain and by some people who ought to know better as the "wild and woolly West"—by a dispatch from Powell River yesterday which described the many advantages the people of that thriving community enjoy, surprising even the visiting members of the Vancouver Board of Trade.

The dispatch noted the thoroughly modern character of the town itself, its fine public and high schools, library, social hall, bathing beach, sporty nine-hole golf course, moving-picture theatre, tennis courts, bowling greens, baseball and football parks, automatic telephone service, modern electric light plant, fine churches, children's organizations, gymnasium, and many other advantages.

Canadians take all this as a matter of course. The community which does not keep up to date quickly suffers in many ways. But a fact that modern Canadian towns offer so many more advantages to their people than towns of much greater size in the Old World should be impressed upon the minds of intending migrants who hesitate merely because they are not sure what their new surroundings will be like.

MR. GUTHRIE LOOKING WESTWARD

ADDRESSING CONSERVATIVES AT
Stirling, Ont., last night, Hon. Hugh Guthrie said that "the hope of the Conservative Party lies in the West rather than in the East," and that "a great question to be considered at the Winnipeg convention is the development of the St. Lawrence, making it a great waterway, and also producing great electrical energy."

This announcement invites two questions. Is it a declaration from the temporary leader of the Conservative Party that, in the choice of his successor, influential interests in Toronto and Montreal, now demanding their right to construct the new platform for the party, will be ignored at the Winnipeg convention? Does it also mean that interests in Montreal opposed to any deepening of the St. Lawrence which would convert the head of the Great Lakes into an ocean port no longer are to be considered by the principal leaders of the party?

Mr. Guthrie says that Alberta coal should be used in Ontario and Nova Scotia coal in Quebec. It would be an excellent arrangement if the manufacturing East could cut down its dependence for coal upon the United States; but it is one thing to suggest the policy advocated by the Conservative leader and quite another matter to put it into practice. Also, by the way, how does Mr. Guthrie propose to carry favor with the prairie provinces on the tariff platform of his party?

No doubt Eastern commentators on Mr. Guthrie's speech will note a few points in it which will prompt them to renew their efforts to have the Winnipeg platform erected, according to well-established custom, by certain interests in Central Canada that continue to look at Western development from a very narrow point of view, the serving of whose ends always has prevented the Conservative Party evolving a national policy.

ALL QUIET IN DUBLIN

IF THE PEOPLE OF DUBLIN EXPECTED
a rumour at the opening of the Dail Eireann today—and it appeared quite likely in view of de Valera's reported arrangements for a demonstration by his party—they have been disappointed or pleased according to their political leanings. The republican members once again refused to take the oath and they were not admitted to the Chamber. Mr. Cosgrave was elected to the presidency of the Dail and, to all intents and purposes, the situation is pretty much as it was prior to dissolution, with the exception that the Government party is not as well off by several seats. With the absence from the reckoning of the de Valera party, however, it will be able to carry on; that is to say, if neither Farmers' Party, People's Party, nor Labor Party has any designs on office.

It was obvious some time before the election that Mr. Cosgrave and his colleagues were apprehensive about the result of the poll, for a determined attempt was made to ally the Government Party with the Farmers' Party; but at its annual gathering the Farmers' Union rejected the proposal largely through the influence of its Southern members, who are strongly anti-Government and in favor of free trade. The Administration went before the people, as Mr. Cosgrave said to an American journalist some time ago, on its record. But weeks before the campaign had commenced one Irish commentator predicted trouble for the Government, saying "the resolute moral courage and the indifference to popular clamor which they have shown during their term of office have made them multitudes of enemies; the strict enforcement of law and order, the stringent levying of taxation, the new preferential tariffs, and the various measures of social and economic reform for which they are responsible have stirred up against them all those forces which do not realize, or want to realize, that the first duty of a Government is to govern."

There was in this prediction a clear understanding of what the same writer describes as one of the country's characteristics: "that jealous desire to pull down those who succeed." But it would seem that the successful administration of the Irish Free State must eventually wear down any form of national characteristic which is opposed to policies the operation of which are in the best interests of the people. The new status, what it implies, the obligations it imposes, is perhaps of too recent creation for some of the people of the Irish Free State to adjust themselves to it. After centuries of bitter strife, in which it has been part of the individual outlook to grumble about real or fancied wrongs, it is not altogether surprising that rigid government, even by the Irish Free State people themselves, should not be immediately popular. But time will heal much.

WELL WORTH IT

LATEST ADVICES FROM OTTAWA PUT
the cost of the Customs probe at between $200,000 and $300,000.

This looks like a large sum to pay out; but against it must be placed the auditor's disclosure that more than $3,000,000 will be paid into the Dominion Treasury as a result of the inquiry.

This is the economic consideration. It is important; but the inquiry also disclosed a condition that was morally bad. Smuggling in its various forms may not disappear as a result of the Commission's work; yet if it has succeeded in putting a wholesome fear into the professional lawbreakers, its cost will have been thoroughly justified, apart from the pecuniary advantages gained.

The Government promised a full inquiry. Not even its critics would seriously complain that it has not been a full one.

FURS WILL BE HIGHER

From The Seattle Times

Milady or her husband, father, brother or suitor, will pay more for furs next fall. To those that fancy styles in pelts they seem to be high enough now, but their quotations will be advanced in the immediate future in consequence of the operation of the immutable law of supply and demand.

Floods have destroyed almost half of the fur-bearing animals in extensive submergible areas of Missouri, Arkansas, Tennessee, Mississippi and Louisiana. From the torrent but few of the creatures born this Spring escaped, having been unable to follow their elders to high ground.

Mink, muskrat and opossum are the chief fur-bearing animals in the flooded region, but these are others of importance.

The output in the affected district is heavier than in most other parts of the country of similar size. The yield in Louisiana last year brought more than $5,000,000.

While supply will be decreased, demand may be expected to show normal increase.

Seattle's fur market will be stimulated and Alaska's catch will be enhanced in worth as a result of conditions in the south.

Traders and trappers will realize larger returns on their wares from the dames and damsels of Vanity Fair.

THE ASSASSIN'S SENTENCE

From The Montreal Star

The light sentence imposed upon the youthful assassin of the Soviet Minister to Poland has stirred Moscow into another spasm of fury. This was surely to be expected. But the very fact that the Polish Court, in the face of two vigorous notes from Russia, had the courage to impose such a sentence, would give the Moscow authorities pause if they were in a frame of mind to read signs in the heavens. It is as clear as noonday that Poland is not at all afraid of Russia.

If Poland were shivering in her shoes over the possibility of a Russian invasion, she would either have invited the Russian Government to share in the responsibility of the trial or would have sought to placate her huge neighbor by imposing a death sentence. But she does nothing of the sort. She takes a course that will flatter the "raw" of the already inflamed Russian leaders in the most stinging and maddening manner. Does this mean Polish "preparedness"? Or does it mean an intimate knowledge of Russian unpreparedness? The other elements in the problem are fairly well known. France is strong and well-armed and bound to intervene, but barred away from the Polish battlefield by the bulk of Germany or the narrow neck of the Corridor. As for Germany, she plainly does not intend to break with Russia. She may join in a formal humanitarian suggestion to Moscow that "terrorism" are tabu in the best circles just now, but the Berlin press goes out of its way to warn Foreign Minister Stresemann in distant Geneva that he must not be drawn into any anti-Russian combination.

Only those who know the internal situation in Russia can tell us how much danger exists. The world will hope earnestly for peace. The proposal that all Europe hold a special conference on Russia reveals widespread uneasiness.

THOUGHTS

Heest not thyself of to-morrow; for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth.—Proverbs xxvii, 1.

Cast thy bread upon the waters; for thou shalt find it after many days.—Ecclesiastes xi, 1.

Do You Mean What You Say?

OVER THE HILL

OVER THE HILL

"Over the hill" is an expression used by soldiers in reference to going absent without leave, or deserting. It is supposed that it originated through the usual presence of hills around an encampment. When a soldier escaping from the camp was "over the hill" he was out of sight of the authorities, and therefore away from their restraint.

Canadian Questions and Answers

THE CANADIAN EGG

Q.—What is Canada's reputation for egg laying?

A.—Canada holds all records for egg laying and white phenological production may not be desirable, on the whole its value as an advertisement for the Dominion has been great. Mr. Elford said. He stressed the value of the system the production of eggs had been increased. He quoted statistics to show that eighty-four eggs are required to pay the cost of the food supplied a single hen over a period of a year at the Experimental Farm and said that the problem of the Canadian farmers was to increase production and not the number of hens.

any chapter in the exploration of the unknown world. In the days of Queen Elizabeth made the first bold dash into the Arctic, carrying the St. George's Cross where no flag had ever been seen before. British ships and British lives had been lavished on heroic attempts to discover the secrets of the north—partly in the hope of finding a new sea route for commerce from the Atlantic to the Pacific, but often in the purely scientific desire to complete man's knowledge of the globe he lives on.

Other nations at times had joined in the search, but none with anything like the persistent enterprise of our Empire. It was entirely natural, then, that the new Dominion of Canada, entrusted with the exercise of British authority over the northern half of this continent, should be given responsibility also for the islands between us and the Pole—many of them almost touching Canadian shores.

The responsibility was not light. Our islands, territory, cover at least 550,000 square miles—more than twice the size of France or Germany—and no part of it is easily accessible. But for many years the Federal Government has been exploring the islands, completing the establishment of law and order where no civilized authority was known before.

Every year a ship is sent north to patrol the islands, carrying supplies for the various Government posts, establishing new posts where advisable, and accumulating a great body of information as to the nature and resources of the land and the conditions of navigation, which vary immensely from season to season, throughout the Arctic. The yearly visit of a ship is looked forward to with great delight by the Eskimo, who are entertained on board with moving pictures and receive medical attention from the ship's doctor. The Royal Canadian Mounted Police in charge of these posts have not only completely won the confidence of the people, but shown all their traditional courage and enterprise on long patrols, covering on one occasion 2,000 miles by dog-team in the dead of winter.

Last Summer a new post was established on Bache Peninsula, halfway up the east coast of Ellesmere Island, and considerably farther north than Etah, the Danish post in northern Greenland. On the opposite shore of Smith Sound, the older posts are at Craig Harbor, in the southeast corner of the same great island (1,500 miles long); and at Etah, 500 miles from the coast, on the west side. As a change has been made in C.A.A. competitions, numbers five and six, the following is published for the information of all concerned:—First prize, $5; second prize, $4; third prize, $3.50; fourth prize, $3; fifth prize, $2.50; sixth prize, $2. Per battery $20. No. six gunnery—First prize, $5; second prize, $4; third prize, $3.50; fourth prize, $3; fifth prize, $2.50; sixth prize, $2. Per battery, $20.

Badges will be issued to all those qualified as signallers or gunlayers, staff sergeants and sergeants are eligible for these competitions. The above prize money is in addition to pay and efficiency pay.

Recruits—A few desirable young men

There is abundance of game—walrus, seal and wild fowl—even at the most northerly post. Herds of musk ox are found grazing elsewhere; and coal is known to be one of the mineral resources of Franklin Island—the name given to the whole archipelago in honor of the great explorer who lies there in an unknown grave.

Great additions to our information as to the country and its inhabitants are expected from the representative of the Mines and Indian Departments who remained on Baffin Land when last year's expedition returned.

Y.M.C.A. TRACK TEAM NOW PREPARING FOR CHAMPIONSHIP MEET

Coach Archie McKinnon, of the Y.M.C.A. track team, is calling special workouts for this week of track and field training for the Vancouver Island championships, which are to be held at the Royal Athletic Park in connection with the Diamond Jubilee Celebration on July 1.

The boys have been working out two days a week for over a month and should be in the best of condition for the meet. The sprinters, particularly, are showing rare form and young Charles Copeland and Billie Oliver should garner quite a few points between them. The club will also be strongly represented in the junior and senior relays by one or two teams.

The special workouts will be held to-night and to-morrow at 7 p.m. and Monday and Tuesday of next week. The athletes are requested to meet at the Y.M.C.A. building at the usual hour, 6 p.m. The following are expected to be on hand: B. Watson, C. Finnemore, W. Oliver, B. Gilson, D. Newell, A. Kesson, F. Luckovich, C. Copeland, P. Turgoose, W. McKinnon, C. Clarke, B. Adams, J. Shadbolt, G. Davis, K. Cochran, H. Robson, A. Morton, N. Allan, G. Morris, E. Peden, W. Peden, and H. Carson.

All that is necessary for participation with the group is a Summer membership in the Y.M.C.A. Coaching will be in the following: Running, sprint, and distance; Jumping, broad and high; pole vaulting, and the weight events.

Cotton in Autos

Use of cotton in automobile manufacturing is increasing rapidly, reports the Association of Cotton Textile Merchants. In three alone 59,000,000 pounds of cotton were used the first three months of this year.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

The Victoria Daily Times, June 23, 1902.

The Fifth Regiment paraded for divine service at Macaulay Point yesterday morning.

Capetown, June 13.—Lord Kitchener received a great public ovation on his arrival here to-day.

Purs to the value of seven thousand dollars arrived from the North on the steamer Tees Saturday night, including a large consignment of seal skins. The natives have been reaping a golden harvest in seal pelts.

R.M.S. Empress of China arrived at the outer wharf yesterday with a large number of Chinese immigrants.

The majority of the country members of the Legislature have departed. Many of them spent Saturday saying good-bye to their friends here and crossed to Vancouver on the steamer Charmer.

ARGUMENTS PROCEED IN TRUST DEED CASE

Judgment Reserved by Appeal Court on Sales Tax Point

Arguments are proceeding in the B.C. Appeal Court in the case of the American Securities Corporation Limited of Vancouver and Martin Woldson of Spokane.

The appeal is from the order of Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald on April 1, 1927, regarding a trust deed dated April 1923, between the American Securities Corporation Limited and Roderick Charles McDonald and the Royal Trust Company by appointment as trustee by indenture dated November 24, 1923.

Mr. Justice McDonald granted a demand of Mr. Woldson that the Royal Trust Company give notice in writing to Granby Consolidated Mining, Smelting & Power Company of its being trustee for certain bondholders, and that transactions relating to the trust deed should be through the trust company.

The American Exchange Bank, which holds the other half of the bonds, objected to the trust company giving notice to the Granby Company. The Royal Trust then petitioned the court for an opinion, advice and direction on the matter.

The American Securities Corporation sold a property to the Granby Company for $200,000, payable in annual instalments of $15,000. The former entered into a trust deed to secure $130,000 bonds, and this trust was later transferred to the Royal Trust Company. An action had been brought by W. Sostrad against Woldson for a commission for bringing about the sale. The money in respect to the sale, the bank paid to the American Savings Bank & Trust Company, and Sostrad being successful, the bank paid the costs.

The judge ordered the trust company to give the notice demanded, but stayed the effect of the order for one week to enable the American Securities Corporation and the American Exchange Bank to appeal, and if notice of appeal were given within the week, then the order by staying pending the appeal.

TAX ON BEER BOTTLES

Judgment was reserved yesterday in the appeal of the Standard Junk Company of Vancouver against a ruling of the County Court Judge in Vancouver that junk dealers should pay sales tax on bottles turned over to brewers. The judge held it was a sale transaction, while for the dealers it was argued that they acted as agents.

At the meeting of the Esquimalt council on Monday evening next the plans for the opening of the new Bullen Memorial Park, which will be formally dedicated to the men of the district who fought and fell in France on July 1, will be discussed. This ceremony will be a feature of Esquimalt's Confederation Jubilee Celebrations. The council making elaborate preparations. School children will take a leading part in the ceremony.

At the usual monthly general meeting of the Tuberculosis Veterans' section, B.E.S.L., Com. R. W. Gornall, delegate to the Vancouver convention, read his report, which showed very interesting results. It was the great advance in unity that is being achieved amongst the soldiers' organization. The matter of zone representation was held in abeyance until receipt of further information from Vancouver and Tranquille Tuberculosis Veterans' Association. Three new members were elected.

Membership recognition for the Victoria West Brotherhood in the city's advisory industrial committee was sought in a communication read to the City Council last night. Much of Victoria's industrial territory lay in the Victoria West area and the Brotherhood would be glad to share in the work of the committee, it was stated. The request was referred to the industrial committee for report. Requests for copies of the Pinneo report from the Junior Chamber of Commerce, were referred to the same committee with power to act.

Rotarians Enjoy Potlatch Auction

To aid in financing the handsome float in preparation for the Rotary Club for entry in the Dominion Day parade, the Rotarians of Victoria, B.C., held a "potlatch" auction, staged by Stewart Williams, 218, 25 cent bid.

Gordon Head strawberries, a sack suspected to contain bottled beer, a cake, a fountain pen and a pipe, donated by members, brought a revenue of $125.25.

Victoria Rotarians will pay a visit to the Port Angeles Rotary Club in July. The date to be selected by the executive from July 6 to 10.

Miss Nora Jones, accompanied by Mrs. Matthews, sang a number of selections, and was heartily applauded.

16th Battalion Plan Elaborate Sports Programme

Preparations for the 16th Canadian Scottish camp to be held from June 30 to July 3, at Borden Hill Park, are nearing completion. The various committees have been working overtime with the result that little is being left undone to make the camp a success.

At the Armistice Monday night, a meeting of the sports committee was held under Lieut. Bob Travis as convener. An excellent sports programme was outlined and the following is a completed list of the events:

100 yards dash (four men from each company); high jump, broad jump, 220 yards scratch (40 men run in heats); 16-lb. shot, 440 yards relay (run in three laps of 100 yards each concluding with a 140 yards dash); band race with instruments; pipers race, Victoria Cross race, 100 and 220 yards final half mile open, walking race, tug of war.

The committee for the day will consist of: Judges, Lieut. Col. D. B. Martyn, Major H. Gillespie.

Timekeeper, Major R. Sargent.

Starter, Sgt. Sheehy.

Announcer, Sgt. Clor.

Clerk of course, Sgt. Harwood.

General committee, Lieuts. Matthews, Thurburn and Travis; Sergs. Harwood and Sheehy.

The committee are pleased with the way the entries for the various events are coming in, but wish to stress the fact that every company must be ably represented.

Some of the officers want to talk to their wives, "came the answer."

"How are the officers?"

"They are very anxious to talk to their wives."

"I'll think it over," the deputy warden said, and hung up the receiver.

Hudspeth then conversed with Simpson, and it was decided to make no concession.

Eleven of the fourteen guards and bobbies held in the mine are married and have their homes near the prison.

THREE HURT IN MOTOR MISHAP

Reports filtered through to Victoria this morning of a serious automobile accident on the Saanich Road, near Stelly's Cross, where three persons were seriously injured and the two automobiles partially demolished. Although authentic reports could be obtained from the Saanich police who had heard no reports of the mishap, one of the injured, it is reported, was brought to Victoria the morning after the accident. Broken collar bone and minor injuries. Two others are said to be at Resthaven in no condition to be moved. Police are momentarily expecting a report.

"The grant of the railway belt and Peace River block was made in trust and to be used for railway purposes. It was so stated in the agreement. But the land was not used for the purposes stated. The railway has been sold and the lands held in trust are never intended that the trustee should benefit and if the purpose of the things that the Lord has entrusted to him is not accomplished, the trustee is not entitled to hold these lands."

INEQUITABLE BARGAIN

"The bargain of 1884 between the Province and the Dominion has turned out to be an inequitable bargain. The results have shown that that bargain was unfair, resulting from a misconception of British Columbia, and the feasibility of building the railway, and under the idea that British Columbia was to be a drag on Confederation, whereas the results have shown the Province to be a drag on the Dominion."

"As a matter of policy between governments, such arrangements should be made that the lands in question should be administered for the least expense. The figures show that the cost of administration has eaten up everything. If the lands were in the hands of the Province, that expense would be saved for the benefit of the people as a whole."

Mr. Craig also pointed out that the Dominion was obligated to build a wagon road across the Province such as the trans-provincial highway, but this had not been done by the Dominion.

In his argument, Mr. Craig pointed out that for the miles from Hope to Ray-to Port Moody, the subsidy under the 1881 act was 25,000 acres per mile. On the basis of the 507 miles of line in British Columbia, this would mean a total of 5,029,445 acres as the fair share for British Columbia. Instead of the contribution of this Province which has been a total of 14,000,000 acres.

The commissioner said he wanted to thank Mr. Craig for his able presentation of British Columbia's case.

side of Seattle by night, a distance of 184 miles, where the machine was Government tested. The few hours along the same course to San Diego and returned from thence to Seattle, making the last northward journey in flying time of less than ten minutes. He will fly from Seattle to San Diego within the next few days, to undergo the pilotage examinations demanded by the U.S. government of all contestants in the Pacific High Race, and wait at the southern port for word of the start to be made from Seattle.

Parkinson's 1,300-mile hop from San Diego to Seattle as nothing, and refers to it as "breaking in the new machine."

His flying record commenced two days ago when he became attached to the Ryan Motor Company aerial staff, after an apprenticeship in the motor mechanical department. He has lately been engaged in piloting for an aerial taxi service run by the firm, and in this capacity has flown hundreds of passengers in the southern field.

BORN AT NELSON

Though for the last sixteen years, off and on, he has been a resident of the United States, Parkinson was born at Nelson, B.C., and educated at Vancouver and in the Okanagan Valley. He married a Miss Leighton of Courtenay, B.C., and after working for a time in the mechanical staff of The Sun at Vancouver left for California where his mechanical training secured him a post with the aircraft motor firm. From there he came to Seattle, where he is now standing at the gateway to the greatest adventure of his life.

Pilot Parkinson said he would clear Seattle, Seattle when he became ready to undergo his final tests and await word of the start of the contest flight. He believes a squadron of transpacific contestants will set out from Seattle together, and the race going to the one who can take it.

To-day the twine factory was idle and the 120 "hard boiled" convicts employed there were locked in their cells. A machine gun brought to the prison by Sheriff R. E. Galvin of Leavenworth County, was set up "for display purposes."

The convicts barricaded in the mine maintained silence until yesterday afternoon, when they called Superintendent Peter Russell on the mine telephone. Russell had managed to make telephone contact with the mine.

"What conditions do you want?" Russell asked.

"No conditions," answered the spokesman, "and that the warden or deputy warden be called to the telephone."

"Some of the officers want to talk to their wives," came the answer.

DIG CONGREGATION ACCLAIMS DR. PRICE

Evangelist Accompanied at Metropolitan Church by Father and Uncle

The auditorium of the Metropolitan United Church was well-filled last evening for the visit of Rev. Dr. Charles Price, the evangelist, who was greeted by a standing congregation, waving their handkerchiefs.

Rev. Dr. Sippell, pastor of the church, conducted the opening exercises, with a number of local ministers on the platform assisting. He called on Dr. Price to introduce his aged father, who, on rising to speak, gave the audience a simple message of greeting from the Old Land.

Continuing, Mr. Price asked: "How many people are there who would be ashamed of Jesus?" "I sometimes think," he said, "that Christians themselves do not realize what they would do for Jesus. If you had to sacrifice every hope that you had to Jesus, what would you take for it? I have never heard anybody say he would sacrifice the hope that he has of His coming. That was the spirit that sent the martyrs to the stake. Did the martyrs go about with fear and trembling? They felt that they could not deny their Lord. Denounce Jesus? You Canadians would not, would you?"

Not! Although I cannot preach with eloquence, I can tell the story of Jesus in my own village, near Sheffield, of Jesus and His love. Is there any other story? This blessed to repeat, and it did so much for me."

Dr. Price then gave a gospel message in very simple language, on the many "comes" in the Bible. "Jesus is always inviting people to come to Him. 'Come and hear,' 'Hear and your soul shall live,' 'Come and dine,' 'Come and drink' of the fountain of the water of life freely. 'Come, and take.'"

"The great need of the world," he said, "is for a more every-day and enthusiastic evangelism, and interpretation of the things that the Lord has given to us, in terms of everyday service and testimony to the people with whom we come in contact; and I believe some of us have never yet learned the lesson that it is only as we give that we can receive, and only as we give out can we have reception of more. Only as we become acquainted with Jesus in all His purity, glory and power, can we be happy and useful. Jesus never coerces, never drives people. Our experience is dependent on our attitude toward Him, and therefore our destiny is in our own hands to a very large extent. 'God is capable of giving you all that you will receive.'"

Dr. Price thanked Dr. Sippell and the trustees for the courtesy extended him in opening the church to him, and said he was glad to see so many of his old friends in the building.

He spoke in most appreciative terms of his father, who had denied himself to give him, his boy, a good training and education and he was grateful for the family altar in his home, and the daily reading of the Bible with his family. Referring to his uncle who was with him, Dr. Price said that he had the distinction of being the only man in England working longer at one bench than any other he had ever known. His uncle went to work at ten years of age, worked three miles to work and three miles back, worked 12 hours every day, for 75 cents a week. And he is still working at the same job, and at the same job as he was at fifty-seven years (applause) and when he is through with this trip (he left from New York on Monday) on July 8 on the Mauretania, he is going right back to the same job."

Mr. Gibson emphasized that he and Viscount Cecil had examined the British and United States proposals in an attempt to understand their mutual positions and to determine whether there was any possibility of reaching a final agreement.

Some difficulties lay in the fact that our three navies have different missions and different problems," he said, "so we must find a common denominator for every body and solutions acceptable to everybody."

PROPOSALS EXAMINED

Mr. Gibson emphasized that he and Viscount Cecil had examined the British and United States proposals in an attempt to understand their mutual positions and to determine whether there was any possibility of reaching a final agreement.

Some difficulties lay in the fact that our three navies have different missions and different problems," he said, "so we must find a common denominator for every body and solutions acceptable to everybody."

It is understood Viscount Cecil did most of the talking at to-day's private conference and that in defending the British project he emphasized the great economies in time and money that would be realized by reducing the sizes of individual warships. It also is understood he characterized the United States proposals as lacking in definite scope because they were restricted to applying maximum tonnage figures to only three types of auxiliary warcraft.

It is believed Mr. Gibson took the position that it was both unwise and impossible to reopen the Washington treaty, as would occur if the British proposal for a reduction in the size of battleships were considered. The United States delegate, it is believed, pointed out that the second Washington Conference, which will be held in 1921, will be convoked by the replacement of any battleships of the great naval powers and that in 1931 France and Italy, who are not participating in the present conference, will be present to take part in the discussion of all problems connected with the ships of the bigger naval units, including cruisers.

CONCESSIONS ON DETAILS

The impression prevails in Geneva that the United States delegation is so convinced of the fairness of its project that it will not countenance any fundamental changes, although naturally it will be disposed to make concessions on details such as are customary at international conferences.

Admiral Viscount Saito, Japanese naval expert, and Rear-Admiral Hilary P. Jones, United States, were scheduled to hold a private conversation late to-day and a meeting of the executive committee of the conference has been convoked for to-morrow morning.

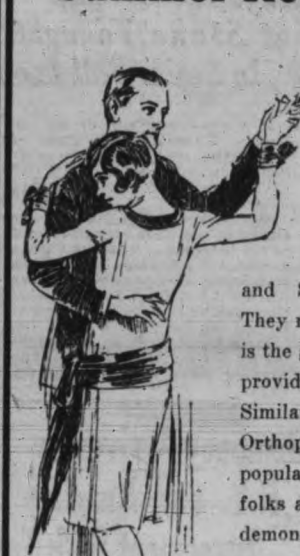

ALLIANCE TALK

Geneva newspapers go so far as to deduce from yesterday's meeting between Mr. Gibson and Admiral Saito that the United States is bent on making the first step toward a United States-Japanese Alliance, but there are no indications at Geneva of such a development.

New Westminster, June 23.—Henry Gieserich was elected grand Z of the Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons of British Columbia at the annual convention held here. Over 100 delegates attended. The grand first principal, M. E. Companion Thomas H. Carey, presided.

CONVERSATION HELD

This probability has emerged from the discussion Hugh S. Gibson, head of the United States delegation, had yesterday with Admiral Saito, of the Japanese delegation, and from statistics which were prepared, based on the Japanese interpretation of the effects of the operation of a project which Admiral Saito submitted to the conference.

SIZE OF WARCRRAFT

In the meantime there is shaping a possible solution of the second grave problem of the conference, namely, Great Britain's desire to reopen and transform at Geneva the fundamental provisions of the Washington naval treaty, including the size of battleships, cruisers and aircraft carriers.

As a measure of conciliation, it is not impossible the United States delegation will propose the adoption by the conference of a resolution that an agreement reached at Geneva will not prejudice the programme of the Second Washington Conference, to be held in 1921. Thus, by the very terms of the Washington Treaty itself, must convene to determine whether the developments of science justify any modification of the decision relative to the size of battleships, cruisers and aircraft carriers.

Several Surprises Seen In First Round Of Ladies' Tourney

Mrs. Philbrick, Star Local Golfer, Eliminates Mrs. Carey of Seattle at Twentieth

Mrs. Hutchinson Wins From Mrs. Forbes Wilson; Present Champ Defeats Mrs. Johnson

Several upsets featured the first round of the ladies' P.N.W. golf, played yesterday at Colwood. The eight winners will fight it out to-day for the honor of playing in to-morrow's semi-finals.

Undoubtedly the feature match of yesterday's play was the clash between Mrs. Philbrick, the Oak Bay star, and Mrs. Carey of Seattle. This pair were all square at the turn, and then arrived at the eighteenth still deadlocked. They halved the nineteenth, and then Mrs. Philbrick put together four lovely shots on the twentieth to give her the hole and match.

Mrs. Johnson held Mrs. Riegel to a half on the first nine, but then triumphed in the second half in an effort to wipe out an early four-hole deficit.

Mrs. Reed, the medalist, defeated Mrs. Walter Parry 3 and 1, after the latter had a gallant if unsuccessful fight in the second half in an effort to wipe out an early four-hole deficit.

Miss Ayton, of Vancouver, handled her iron well and gained a well-deserved victory over Mrs. Conroy. Mrs. Ayton is evenly following in her father's footsteps.

There was nothing in it for nine holes between Mrs. Sweeney and Mrs. Armstrong of Victoria, but the four-times champion was not to be denied on the home stretch and won 3 and 2.

The second Victorian to remain in the running is Mrs. Hutchinson, who played stellar match golf yesterday to dispose of the B.C. champion, Mrs. Forbes Wilson.

Play continues to-day in all flights. The results were as follows: Mrs. Riegel won from Mrs. Johnson, 3 and 1.

Mrs. Philbrick won from Mrs. C. C. Carey at the twentieth.

Miss Ayton won from Mrs. E. C. Conroy, 3 and 1.

Mrs. Sweeney won from Mrs. Armstrong, 3 and 2.

Mrs. Hutchinson won from Mrs. Forbes Wilson, 4 and 2.

Mrs. Jackson won from Mrs. McAllister, 4 and 2.

Mrs. Wolverton won from Miss Murphy, 7 and 5.

Mrs. Reed won from Mrs. Parry, 3 and 1.

League Leadership at Stake To-night In Senior Ball Loop

In a game that will decide the leadership of the Travelers and Eagles senior amateur baseball teams will meet at the Royal Athletic Park this evening at 6.15 o'clock.

At the present the Travelers are sitting in top place one game ahead of the lodgements. A victory for the former will give them a more safe lead, while should the Eagles come out on the right end of the score they will be tied with the present leaders for the honors.

Form Forwards will pitch for the Travelers, while Johnny Kerr or Howe will start for the Eagles.

Dempsey Arrives In N.Y. and Reaches Agreement With Tex

Ex-Champion Will Meet Jack Sharkey at Yankee Stadium on July 21

New York, June 23.—Jack Dempsey, bruised and hardened by ten weeks of conditioning in the Ventura mountains of California, came to New York yesterday and within two hours reached a complete agreement with Jack Sharkey, to be fought at the Yankee Stadium, July 21, and reached a compromise understanding on terms for a possible return title fight with Gene Tunney in September.

The former heavyweight champion definitely accepted terms for an elimination fifteen-round match with Jack Sharkey, to be fought at the Yankee Stadium, July 21, and reached a compromise understanding on terms for a possible return title fight with Gene Tunney in September.

What the compromise called for was not revealed, but it is understood Dempsey, if he wins from Sharkey, will get considerably more than any challenger or ex-champion ever received for a title bout.

The Rickard-Dempsey agreement also provides that if the erstwhile "Manassas mauler" shatters precedent by winning back the heavyweight crown, Dempsey will be paid $200,000, appeared in his physical condition.

Dempsey was scheduled to attach his signature to the formal papers for the fight at the hotel where he is staying.

Sharkey, who already has accepted terms, was expected to do the same thing today. It is understood that the old champion will receive twenty per cent of the gross receipts for the Stadium bout, which Rickard expects will exceed $1,000,000.

SIXTEEN-YEAR-OLD GIRL ELIMINATES MRS. MALLORY

Present United States Women's Tennis Champion Is Beaten at Wimbledon by Miss Betty Nuttall, English Schoolgirl and Junior Champion; Score Was 2-6, 6-2 and 6-0; Victory Exceedingly Popular; Tilden, Lacoste, Cochet, Borotra and Hunter All Win Their Matches

Wimbledon, Eng., June 23.—Mrs. Molla Mallory, seven times United States women's tennis champion, and present holder of the title was defeated to-day in the Wimbledon singles by Miss Betty Nuttall, English schoolgirl player and junior champion. The score was 2-6, 6-2, 6-0.

Miss Nuttall won the British junior championship in 1924, 1925 and 1926 last year. Last year, also, paired with Gwendolin Hardy, she won the British women's hard court doubles championship. She is sixteen years old.

SEVERE STROKING The start of the match saw some of the severest stroking by women with the memory of veteran Wimbledon fans, the competitors standing at the base lines and exchanging scorching drives. Mrs. Mallory was imbued with relentless energy and she stroked magnificently both on the forehand and backhand. Her drives proved too much for her opponent and she took the set, 6-2.

GREAT STRATEGY Then Betty showed great tennis strategy and changed her game, slowing the pace and going to the net. Her tactics completely baffled Mrs. Mallory from the beginning of the set, which the English girl took 6-2, leaving the match square at the set point.

Mrs. Mallory began the last set in determined fashion and dropped the first two games only after taking them seven minutes to do so. This effort seemed to have taken the last of her resources and she and the English girl ran out the next four to win the deciding set at love.

POPULAR VICTORY Betty's victory was a most popular one with the gallery. This effort seemed to have taken the last of her resources and she and the English girl ran out the next four to win the deciding set at love.

LAST GERMAN ELIMINATED Henri Cochet of France eliminated the last German player in the men's singles by defeating Kienasthorff, 7-5, 9-7, 6-0.

Rene Lacoste, world's leading player, also won his way into the fourth round by defeating H. G. Macintosh, 6-0, 6-2, 6-2.

William Tilden advanced another round in the men's singles, beating G. Hughes, 6-3, 6-4, 6-0.

Miss Elizabeth Ryan defeated Mrs. H. O. Broadbridge, 6-2, 6-3 and thus became the first United States woman to reach the fourth round of the singles.

Senorita de Alvarez, Spain, was the first to reach the quarter finals of the women's single, beating Mrs. Mayrovgora, 6-4, 6-0.

Francis Hunter, United States, defeated Arthur Lowe, England, 6-2, 8-6, 6-3.

Jean Borotra of France, eliminated Edward Higgs, 6-1, 3-6, 1-6, 6-2, 6-2.

Six Portlanders Remain In Running For Golf Honors

Bon Stein of Seattle and F. Wood, Vancouver, Remaining Players

Rudy Wilhelm Hands Forest Watson 10 and 9 Lacing; Four Locals in First Flight

Six Portlanders remain in the running for the P.N.G. amateur title as a result of the second round matches played yesterday at Colwood. Bon Stein's win yesterday kept Seattle's name on the championship map, while young Freddie Wood, the seventeen-year-old Burnaby ex-caddie, completes the eight golfers who will fight it out to-day for the right to enter the semi-finals. All the matches but one were decided by large margins, but much closer contests are expected to-day as the favorites begin to clash.

A REAL LACING The largest gallery of the week watched Rudy Wilhelm give a 10 and 9 lacing to Forest Watson, who thus relinquished the title he won last year. The newly-crowned Oregon State titleholder acquired a lead of five holes during the morning round, in which he outplayed the Spokane man in every department of the game. The winner then held the first nine in 34 and four strokes, finished the match at the twenty-seventh, where he narrowly missed holding his approach putt for a birdie. Rudy plays Bon Stein to-day in a battle of giants, and the Portland man is slight favorite to win after his sparkling performance yesterday, although the breaks will play an important part in the outcome.

A DING-DONG BATTLE Don Moe and Bryan Winter staged a ding-dong battle for thirty-four holes in which the younger boy eventually pulled through to victory by the margin of 3 and 2. The winner's brother, Roy, had another easy match against George Shaw, whom he eliminated by 8 and 7. Matching Wilhelm's play for sheer brilliance and displaying the same machine-like accuracy which has characterized his play of the past few days, Frank Dolp put out the veteran Guy Standifer 6 and 5. The Western amateur champion collected no less than three birdies on the first nine holes, and his shots were splitting the pin most of the day. Wolf meets Wilking to-day in another great match.

HAD UPPER HAND Russ Smith always had the upper hand in his encounter with Jimmie Hall, who bowed 6 and 5 before his opponent's brilliant driving and putting. The winner meets young Don Moe to-day for the right to enter the semi-finals.

Freddie Wood continued to be the sensation of the early rounds with 3 and 2 shot near par golf all the way to gain an 8 and 7 victory over Bill Davidson. The Vancouver youngster will have to beat his best to-day, however, when he encounters Roy Moe.

Four Victorians remain in the first flight, which is quite as strong as the championship flight of many tournaments. These are Moore, Matson, Thomas and Terry. Lee Stell and Vin Dolp also advanced by top-side scores.

The "B" players all moved out to Colwood to-day, where the remaining matches will be played in all flights. Results of the play follow:

CHAMPIONSHIP ROUND: R. Wilhelm won from Forest Watson, 10 and 9.

Bon Stein won from R. Whaley, 7-6.

Russ Smith won from J. Wall, 6-5.

D. Moe won from Bryan Winter, 3-2.

Roy Moe won from George Shaw, 7-6.

F. J. Wood won from Bill Davidson, 8-7.

Dr. Willing won from F. E. William, 11-10.

F. Dolp won from Guy Standifer, 6-5.

FIRST FLIGHT: Jack Fraser won by default from Gene Hatton.

C. J. Perkins won from C. Havens, 1 up.

Vincent Dolp won from Dr. S. C. Slocum, 7-5.

F. Thomas won by default from H. Haakons.

Jack Matson won from H. Lineham, 3-2.

Dick Moore won from Thornton Fell, 3-1.

Lee Stell won from F. F. Jackson, 8-7.

LINDBERGH INVITED TO VISIT OTTAWA

U.S. Airman Asked to be Present During Confederation Jubilee Celebration

Ottawa, June 23 (Canadian Press).—An invitation to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh has been sent by the national committee in charge of the Confederation Jubilee Celebration ceremonies, with the approval of the Department of External Affairs, it was learned here today. While the committee has not yet received Col. Lindbergh's acceptance, officials are reluctant to give out any details, but it is understood the invitation is for Saturday, July 2, which will be the second day of the week-end festivities celebrating sixty years of Confederation in Canada. It is expected Col. Lindbergh will fly to Ottawa bearing a message of goodwill from the United States Government. His arrival will be only a few days after ter Hon. William Phillips, First Minister from the United States to Canada, takes up his official duties in the capital of the Dominion.

NO REPLY YET
St. Louis, Mo., June 23.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh stated today he would like to accept an invitation he has received from the Canadian Government to attend the Confederation Jubilee celebration in Ottawa July 1, but could give no definite answer at present. One of Lindbergh's backers said that if he went to Ottawa he probably would take his plane, The Spirit of St. Louis.

Tire Manufacturers Fear Rubber Break

New York, June 23.—The apparent activity of the $40,000,000 American Tire Manufacturing pool on the New York Rubber Exchange, has led to the common belief that manufacturers were trying to hold up rubber prices to prevent a decline in tire prices. The Goodyear tire plants in one day, last Friday, manufactured more than 65,000 tires.

DEER CHASED AND CAPTURED IN CALGARY

Calgary, June 23.—A wild deer was captured last night after running through the business section of Calgary into a suburb, where it finally sought refuge in a garage. In the struggle to capture it two men were severely injured. The animal was finally lassoed and taken in the police patrol to St. George's Island oddpaddock and turned loose. It is believed it came all the way from the foothills of the Rockies.

INDIAN CHIEF LOST LIFE

Kamloops, B.C., June 23.—Amputation of the left leg of Jim Antoine, fifty-five, chief of the Deadman's Creek Indian Reserve, twenty-five miles west of here, who was seriously injured while assisting in the roundup of 100 horses which his tribe had sold to the Russian Soviet Union, failed to save his life. The chief's leg was fractured near the thigh when his horse tumbled and rolled over on him, and when the animal reared up he was caught on the horn of the saddle and forced to cut away his own flesh in order to free himself. Antoine was brought by his tribesmen to the hospital here where he died yesterday after the unsuccessful operation.

Two U.S. Aviators Visit Budapest

Budapest, Hungary, June 23.—Charles D. Chamberlin and Charles A. Levine, United States transatlantic aviators, yesterday made a flying visit from Vienna to Budapest in their monoplane, the Columbia, in which they made their flight from New York to Germany. The roads from the flying field at Matasfeld to the city were lined by a great crowd of people anxious to see the fliers, while other thousands gathered outside of the hotel at which they stopped in Budapest. Chamberlin was presented with a silver loving cup and Levine with a silver laurel wreath by the Hungarian Aero Club, while laudatory speeches were made by the United States Minister, J. Butler Wright, the burgomaster of Budapest and the Hungarian Minister of Commerce.

To Obtain Relief From Neuritis

The nervous system must be thoroughly restored. Here is a case which illustrates this point.

The twitching of nerves and muscles warned Mrs. Mapletto of the exhausted condition of her nervous system. She also had frequent nervous headaches and persistent neuritis in her right side. Only temporary relief can come from external applications for neuritis. To really get rid of the cause of trouble it is necessary to thoroughly restore the exhausted nerves by the persistent use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Mrs. Wm. Mapletto, Mount Forest, Ont., writes: "For about three years I suffered from neuritis in my right side. I had pains through my back and twitching of the nerves and muscles. I had also been operated on for appendicitis, and it left me a nervous wreck. I was very restless and uneasy, and bothered with frequent neuralgic headaches. My appetite was poor and I sometimes took weak spells. I commenced a treatment of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and in a very short time I found relief. This medicine has done me the world of good and I can recommend it to all suffering as I was."

VISION and Action—these are the qualities to which Canadians of today pay tribute in their grateful recognition of the work of the Fathers of Confederation sixty years ago.

These qualities are still demanded of those who are serving Canada in the present. Our Fathers took possession of half a continent, unified it, gave it the institutions it still enjoys, and founded the transportation system which is to this day the backbone of its economical life.

We, their successors, have likewise our problem to solve. We have to provide this half-continent with a population sufficient in numbers to ensure its proper development; educated up to the best Canadian standards; trained in the ideals of good Canadian citizenship; accustomed to respect for law and order; and conscious of the noble tradition which is our national heritage.

Can any Canadian doubt what would be the attitude of the Fathers towards this problem if they were here today? They dreamed, but they also worked for the realization of their dream. The Canadians of today likewise have their vision and their opportunity for action. They have the example of the Fathers to teach and to hearten them. The vision which our Fathers saw must never fail. Their noble deeds must still live in the minds of generations to come.

Langford

Langford, June 23.—The school closing exercises will be held in the school grounds on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. To mark the Diamond Jubilee Confederation Harry Pooley, M.P., will give an address on the subject. Two maple trees will be planted and a short national programme has been prepared by the teachers. The tennis prizes and Confederation medals will be awarded. The trustees will organize the sports and races, which will be followed by an ice cream and cake feed for the children. Everyone is cordially invited to be present, and a special invitation is extended to the pioneers of the district.

A strawberry tea will be held at the home of Mrs. Ernest Goucher, opposite the Colwood Hotel, on Monday, June 27, from 3 p.m. Free transportation will be provided from the stores. The attractions will include a radio concert, vocal solos, a lucky dip bag, a candle lighting competition, a kewpie doll contest, a dollie tail event and a home cooking stall, to which contributions are invited. The proceeds will go towards the St. Matthew's Guild fund, under whose auspices the social afternoon is arranged.

On Tuesday, June 28, the monthly meeting of the Langford Women's Institute will be held at 538 Obed Avenue, the Gorge, by the kind invitation of Mrs. F. Foster. After the general business a report of the Provincial Conference will be given by the delegates.

The service on Sunday at St. Matthew's Church will be held at 11 a.m.

During the next Summer months the Sunday School will be held at 11 a.m. on Sunday mornings instead of the afternoon, starting the new time on Sunday, June 26.

COLD STORAGE MEASURE GETS SOLID BLOCK OF SUPPORT IN COUNCIL

By-law Proposing Guarantee Required by Montreal Syndicate Receives Two Readings Without Change; Will Go to Electorate for Early Vote if Ratified by Council; Aims at Modern Cold Storage Plant at Ogden Point

The terminal warehouse by-law, through which the electorate of Victoria will be asked if they wish the city to foster the operation of a cold storage plant at Ogden Point docks proposed by Montreal capitalists as a general public utility, received first and second readings by the City Council last night.

The introduction of the by-law, which proposes a maximum guarantee on the part of the city of seven per cent per annum profits to the operating company over a period of ten years, disclosed strong council support for the project. Alderman J. L. Mara alone spoke against the proposition on its merits, declaring he had not heard sufficient about its details to vote on the question. Alderman H. C. Holmes, chairman of the industrial committee, Alderman P. R. Brown and Alderman J. B. Clearvancement for the community along every line. In the present negotiations the city had the advice of R. T. Elliott and other legal advisers, and the by-law protected the city adequately, and that the measure should go ahead. That was sufficient for him, and he proposed to at least take the will of the people on the issue, concluded the Mayor.

WOULD GO TO PEOPLE

On its second reading the by-law passed 7-1. Alderman Mara voting alone in the negative. On consideration clause by clause, the measure was approved without change. It will come up for third reading to-day, and for final passage early next week, after which it will be submitted to a vote of the electorate.

Alderman H. C. Holmes, chairman of the industrial committee, Alderman P. R. Brown and Alderman J. B. Clearing any bonuses to its shareholders while the city's guarantee was being used to derive any portion of the interest sums required. The city's guarantee would apply by way of interest on investment only, and not in respect to the capital sum. The plant would be assessed by the city at $40,000 for the first ten years, and $85,000 for the next ten years; with water at 7.5 cents per 1,000 gallons for twenty years.

The city would apply for a lease of a suitable site at Ogden Point from the company would be precluded from pay-

Alderman Mara, driving a lone wedge, failed to split the council vote on the issue, and asked to be recorded in the negative. His objections, said Alderman Mara, were that he had not had sufficient information as to the profits of such an enterprise, its operation or intended mission to vote on the subject. He wished to see a prospectus of the proposed plant, and criticized the wording of the enabling by-law in respect to its terminology and provisions.

As a member of the industrial committee appointed at the first of the year it was Alderman Mara's duty to have made himself conversant with the issue, and to be able to advise the council at the date, retorted Mayor Pendray in reply.

The city had completed its negotiations with H. G. Brown and his associates and was now told by its legal advisers that the by-law was in proper shape for presentation to the people, with the city's interests safeguarded in the light of all eventualities, said His Worship.

It was a matter of great public importance, and he was somewhat surprised to hear Alderman Mara admit at this stage that he knew nothing whatever about the proposed cold storage plant, which had been the subject of a special study by the committee of which he was a member since early in the year, as well as lengthy and exhaustive reports from the city's own adviser, Roger D. Pinneo, continued the Mayor.

The by-law as now framed met with the approval of Mr. Brown, negotiating on behalf of the company proposing to erect and operate the plant, he said, and all that remained was to take the council's will on the terms before putting the measure to the people.

WOULD STAKE REPUTATION

For his own part, continued His Worship, he was ready to stake his business reputation that the cold storage proposition was one of the best the city had yet encountered, and held great promise for the development of the city. The city had spared no pains to investigate the proposals thoroughly and to get at the facts.

It was the duty of Alderman Mara, as a member of the industrial committee, to have familiarized himself as to what it was all about, and to have come prepared to advise the council as to the best course to pursue. Instead, continued the Mayor, the Alderman asked for information when the negotiations had been completed, and the agreement in a form ready for the necessary signatures as soon as authority was granted for that act.

So far as the ratepayers were concerned, they would be fully informed on every angle of the proposed agreement, and he (the Mayor) would see that every fact was laid fairly and squarely before the electorate before a vote was taken.

PROMINENT BACKING

The firm of Hanson Bros. had expressed willingness to back the proposition to the extent of $700,000, and that on the same basis that the city was now proposing to enter into with Mr. Brown, who had secured an advance agreement of this backing. There had been changes in the draft, but these had since been varied to terms that would be acceptable to both parties, he continued.

come city, continued the mayor, would have liked to have driven a harder bargain in respect to the repayment of interest sums underwritten in the first ten years, but now found this impossible in the light of earlier undertakings with the backers. On the result of its own figures the city was assured of the success of the cold storage venture, and had no reason to fear a reversal of that success.

READY TO ASSIST

The Federal authorities had done a great deal for Victoria, and through the medium of the Canadian National Railways had recently given fresh proof of that readiness to assist in the upbuilding of the port, yet the city had done nothing tangible to provide for its own advancement, continued the Mayor.

It was time to take courage of its own convictions and to act, or else to step down and stop trying to get anywhere, believed His Worship. Personally he was all for the cold storage undertaking, and was confident that its fruition here would mean great ad-

SUGGESTS ESQUIMALT AS AIRSHIP BASE

Rising on a point of privilege before the City Council last night Alderman H. C. Holmes stressed the possibilities of Esquimalt Harbor as an airship base that might well fit in with the Imperial plan of Empire air development. Esquimalt was a garrison town, with numbers of naval and military ratings in residence, and many ideal facilities for the construction of an aerial mooring mast for rigid airships and the maintenance of a flight station there, he stated. The city decided to prepare all the data at its disposal on the subject and submit the same to the proper authorities in due course. At no other point on the coast could the large number of men required for handling airships be so readily mustered, while Esquimalt offered ideal weather facilities twelve months in the year, concluded the Alderman. The council concurred in the action taken.

hus, also members of that committee, expressed themselves as wholeheartedly in support of the proposals. Aldermen Marchant, Dewar and Harvey assented to the by-law without discussion. Alderman Litchfield declared his willingness to have a public vote on the issue, despite a personal disinclination to bonus industry.

SUMMARY OF BY-LAW

The by-law containing the terms of the proposed covenant between the City of Victoria and the "Victoria Cold Storage and Terminal Warehouse Company Limited" provides for city assistance in the construction, operation and maintenance of a fireproof terminal warehouse at Ogden Point, to operate as a general port utility on a published schedule of charges.

The city would undertake to guarantee the net earnings of the company in a sum not exceeding $37,500 in any one year, or up to seven per cent on the investment, for a period of ten years, and to make good such difference if the normal earnings of the company fell below seven per cent in that period. The city would also accord fixed assessment for taxation on an increasing basis, and a commercial rate for the water consumed in the operation of the enterprise.

The company would erect a fireproof terminal warehouse equipped with modern machinery for refrigeration, for brine freezing, for the regulation of temperature, for handling merchandise inwards and outwards, and for storage, to be operated as a port utility on a basis of published tariffs.

LIMITED GUARANTEE

The city's guarantee would extend to a maximum of the seven per cent interest on a sum not exceeding $530,000 where there was an entire lack of net earnings, and in lesser proportion as net earnings took up part of the annual interest sums over the ten-year period.

City engineers and city auditors would be given open rights during all stages of the undertaking, and the erection of the plant would follow within ninety days of the ratification of the by-law by the electorate.

Much of the by-law, which has twenty-one clauses, including a long preamble, is devoted to safeguards for the city's risk in the undertaking.

The by-law provides that the city's liability is in respect only to the seven per cent per annum guarantee on sums actually invested, for a limited period of ten years, if earnings fall short of that mark, and in the same proportion.

Every package bears the maker's guarantee of superior flavour. Look for the red seal

Refuse a Substitute

In reduction of this liability the city would be entitled to all the net profits earned in each year, up to the amount necessary to pay off the guarantee. The guarantee of interest would operate on an anticipated cost of $500,000 for the erection of the plant, and a further $50,000 if a site had to be purchased outright.

NO INTERIM BONUSES
Net profits are defined as the surplus of revenue after named reductions providing for all contingencies. The company would be precluded from paying any bonuses to its shareholders while the city's guarantee was being used to derive any portion of the interest sums required.

The city's guarantee would apply by way of interest on investment only, and not in respect to the capital sum. The plant would be assessed by the city at $40,000 for the first ten years, and $85,000 for the next ten years; with water at 7.5 cents per 1,000 gallons for twenty years.

The city would apply for a lease of a suitable site at Ogden Point from the company would be precluded from pay-

Fresh Air Hygiene the Bath Sleep - but most important of all Baby's Food

Always, but more than ever in hot weather, baby's food has more to do with his well-being than anything else. Nurse baby if at all possible. But if you cannot do not risk baby's life experimenting with foods. Put him on Eagle Brand at once, carefully follow feeding directions and he will thrive through the dangerous summer weather, given normal care in other respects. Should you be in any doubt as to his condition consult your doctor immediately. Eagle Brand, since 1857, has been recognized as the safe milk for bottle-fed babies, being pure, uniform and easily digested. It is also easily prepared. At all grocers and druggists.

"Yeah," said he, revolving until his back was squarely toward her.

"I apologize," she said, following him as he could see into his face again. "I'm sorry. Does that make it all right?"

"Yeah," he said, and promptly left the house.

Bodey laughed when the boy had reached the brick stable and vanished inside the door. "Miss Rollins, I compliment you. You have a new admirer. A slave of beauty."

"The fellow's an imbecile pup," objected Pierce. "What right's he got to be commenting on who a young lady likes, and who she doesn't like?"

"I'll tell you," said the man. "The kid has had a rough time. Most of the people he has associated with have knocked him around a good bit, and he's always in rebellion. Now, for the first time in his life he's within reaching distance of a lovely young woman—and he glanced at her, and he blushed—and he hasn't the faintest idea how to treat her. He'll call her names to-day, and likely enough do something to make her want to kill him to-morrow. I think we can civilize him a little, but let's try to avoid any more battles. Shall we?"

"Of course we shall," pronounced Nadine. "Any Charley, you've got to treat him civilly."

He eyed her sourly. "I suppose because he's got a crummy crush on you, that makes him all right? Don't forget he's the same little darling who tried to knock my brains out five minutes ago."

"You're terribly unjust, Charley," she said, and refused to pursue the subject further.

Under Bodey's direction, Pierce and Smith were presently engaged in nailing boards across the windows of a vacant upstairs room and of the room where Bodey and the boy had slept. Pierce worked on the second floor and Smith below.

Nadine set about boiling a portion of ham for the evening's meal. "I should think you'd all be tired of fried meat," she said.

Bodey helped with the windows, sawing bits of plank, hunting up an assortment of nails and directing how the boards should be nailed. He was tethered to the two placid old horses in the milk house. The iron bar to which he had been accustomed to attach them was gone, so he replaced the brackets which had been torn down earlier in the day.

When the windows were satisfactorily barred, Pierce carried armfuls of hay to his sleeping quarters.

"Better take the hay," Bodey suggested. "Smith and I are more used to roughing it than you are."

The young man refused. "It's sort of like camping out," he declared. "I like to sleep on the hay. That may be it's the smell—it's like perfume!"

He moved Nadine's bed from the small, dark room to the larger apartment next to the kitchen, and helped Bodey take down and transfer the other, more capacious one to a back room upstairs.

The evening meal—boiled ham and hard fried eggs and coffee—was eaten almost in silence. All of them were tired. Smith said nothing at all, munching his food with his head bent over his plate and without lifting his eyes to the girl or to Bodey. One he favored Pierce with a long, severe stare, when the latter asked the girl if she would go to a club dance with him "when we are away from here, but he interposed no comment. Bodey had renewed the dressing on the boy's chin, and Smith himself had washed his face with soap.

The man carefully locked the doors of Nadine's room before he retired, and turned the key on Pierce in the upstairs chamber.

"You don't have to do that," protested the young man. "I won't skip out again."

"I was hoping you wouldn't," said Bodey from the other side of the door with the key in his pocket. "He went to the room where Smith already was in bed and, after undressing, tumbled to the mattress with a sigh of fatigue."

Pierce awakened the household next morning with song.

"Can't get 'em up."

"Can't get 'em up in the morn'-ning," he caroled vigorously.

Bodey tumbled from bed and let the young man out of his place of imprisonment.

"Heaven never meant you to be a singer," he observed. "If you want to get around, go out and water the horses and give 'em some hay. I'll be down soon as I get dressed."

Pierce was laboring in the milk house when Bodey descended the stairs. A knocking on the inner side of Nadine's door gave notice that she also was awake, and the man released her. Smith still was languidly drawing on his clothes, above.

"Only four eggs left, Mr. Bodey," the girl reported, as she began preparations for breakfast.

"There's not enough ham here for another meal, either. We ought to have some bread, too, and soap, and those towels I told you about—and I've simply got to have a change of linen."

Bodey threw up his hands. "All right! All right!" he shouted, in mock surrender.

"What's all right?" demanded Pierce, who had come to the door to greet Nadine.

Bodey told him the situation. "And," he concluded, "even if we're satisfied without towels, we've got to have something to eat. How I'm going to get to the store now, with two house guests to look after, I don't know!"

"I'll go," said Pierce promptly.

"Hum," the man contemplated. "I'll go," he rubbed his hands and viewed the youth through narrowed lids.

"Honest to Pete I'll come back—and won't give you any. Won't say a word to a soul."

"Okay," Bodey decided. He felt in his hip pocket and brought forth a small roll of bills. "Get your shopping list from Miss Rollins," he directed.

"I've got some coin," said Pierce.

"Let me buy the truck," the man shook his head and thrust several banknotes into the other's hand. "This is my boarding house," he said. "If you want some clean shirts and underwear for yourself, you can buy 'em, but not household stuff. They don't know you over in the village, do they?"

"No," said Pierce, and withdrew with Nadine to receive her instructions.

After breakfast he set out. The girl, young Smith and Bodey watched him go. Instead of striking for the highway, he cut across the wide field on the side of the road opposite the house.

"Last we see of him," said Smith pessimistically.

"He'll come back," returned Bodey. Pierce turned and waved before he descended into a small hollow that concealed him from the house. Bodey and the girl waved back, and the three went about their morning's small employments.

It was toward noon that Nadine came to Bodey.

"There's a lady coming into the yard," she said. "An old lady."

Bodey, who had been repairing one of the ancient kitchen chairs, hastened to the front door, shaking his head at the girl as a warning to "out of view." A moment later she heard his startled voice:

"Trene!" he cried.

CHAPTER XVIII

Nadine crept through the sleeping room and into the hall.

"How did you get here?" she heard Bodey ask.

The girl reached the door and peeped out. The man was holding the visitor by the arm, his head cocked as if he were listening for all that he could hear. "In the name of all that's holy, did you walk all this way?" he was saying.

"Of course I didn't walk," snapped the woman, briskly jerking herself from his grasp. "I got a ride as far as the road—this road out front. I just trotted up here the rest of the way."

Uncle Wiggily Gets Shaved

Copyright, 1927, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

By HOWARD R. GARDIS

"Are you coming home early to-day?" asked Uncle Wiggily's wife as she waved her paw to him when he hopped down off the front stoop one morning.

"Yes, you mean after I find my adventure?" inquired the rabbit gentleman, twinkling his pink nose on one side.

"Yes," went on Mrs. Longears. "I thought if you came home early we could go to the pictures."

"I shall hop home as soon as I can after I find an adventure," the bunny uncle promised. "I want to stop at the barber pig's to get shaved, but that will not take long. I want to look nice to go to the movies with you."

"Good-bye, Uncle Wiggily!" "Hello! Who are you?" asked the rabbit gentleman. But he really did not want to ask for, just then Jollie and Jollie Longtail, the mice children, pattered out on their way to school.

"Oh, there you are!" cried Uncle Wiggily, smiling at them. "I hope you have your lessons so the Lady Mouse Teacher will not keep you in after school."

"Yes, Uncle Wiggily," squeaked Jollie. "We know our lessons."

The mice brother and sister scurried on to the Hollow Stump School, and

Simple Remedy For Bad Stomach Gives Swift Relief

No Need of Strong Medicines or Diet. Safe and Simple Remedy Keeps Stomach in Fine Condition.

If you are a victim of Stomach Troubles—Gas, Sourness, Pain or Bloating—you may have quick and certain relief by following this simple advice.

Don't take strong medicines, artificial dietetics or pull down your system with laxation diet. For within reason most folks may eat what they like—if they will keep their stomach free from souring acids that hinder or paralyze the work of digestion.

And the best and easiest way to do this is to follow every meal with three or four tablets of Bismarated Magnesia—a pleasant, harmless, inexpensive and handy tablet form of Magnesia that promptly neutralizes acids and keeps your stomach sweet and clean.

A week's trial of Bismarated Magnesia tablets, which any good druggist can supply at trifling cost, should quickly convince you that 80 per cent. of ordinary stomach distress is absolutely unnecessary. Be sure to get Bismarated Magnesia Tablets! (Advt.)

CXLVIII—How Fast Does Light Travel?

by MAX HAHN

WHEN TWO NEW YORK MEN CIRCLED THE WORLD IN 28 DAYS, 14 HOURS AND 36 MINUTES, THEIR RECORD WAS FIRST PAGE NEWS THE WORLD OVER. COMPARE THEIR FEAT, HOWEVER, WITH THE SPEED OF LIGHT AND IT SEEMS AS THOUGH THEY STOOD STILL. LIGHT COULD FLY AROUND THE EARTH MORE THAN SEVEN TIMES IN ONE SECOND.

GALILEO SUSPECTED THAT LIGHT DOES NOT TRAVEL INSTANTANEOUSLY BUT HIS EFFORTS TO MEASURE ITS SPEED FAILED. IN 1676 ROMER, A DANISH ASTRONOMER, WAS SUCCESSFUL AND LEARNED THAT WAVES OF LIGHT TRAVEL 196,000 MILES IN A SECOND.

IT TAKES FOUR YEARS AND FIVE MONTHS FOR THE RAYS FROM ALPHA CENTAURI, THE NEAREST STAR, TO TRAVEL TO THE EARTH. THUS ITS RAYS WHICH WE ARE SEEING NOW STARTED TOWARD THE EARTH IN 1923.

MALAHAT IS NOW PLAYING HIDE AND SEEK WITH CUTTER

Reputed Rum-runner, 630 Miles Off Californian Coast, Is Dogged by U.S. Coastguard Vessel Cahokia; Latter Vessel, Which Relieved Shawnee, Has Supplies for Forty Days and Will Stick to "Freezeout" Game

San Francisco, June 23.—A game of hide-and-seek on the high seas was in progress 630 miles off the California coast today with the United States coastguard cutter Cahokia as "it" and the famous vessel Malahat, believed by Federal authorities to be hunting a place to hide long enough to turn over to United States bootleggers some 1,000 cases of liquor.

The Malahat, formerly the Mahoney, was sighted by the cutter Shawnee, which was relieved by the cutter Cahokia, on June 17. The Malahat was then reported to be between 1,000 and 2,000 cases of liquor.

"GHOST SHIP"
The Malahat earned her title of "Ghost Ship" because she slipped the phantom-like past United States coastguard patrols and never actually was caught landing liquor, although for years she has been reputed a rum ship. If her liquor cargo was intended to quench California's thirst, as officially assumed, the old steamer has lived up to her record.

The coastguard cutter Tamarack sighted the Malahat June 16 about the time three liquor seizures were made between Santa Cruz, Cal., and Half-Moon Bay, some fifty miles north of that city. Most of the liquor was whiskey, which officials thought might have come from anywhere, but the rest of it was Chinese wine, which made the raiders refund the Malahat was only 100 miles off the coast when she was sighted.

CIRCLE VESSEL
The cutter Shawnee was dispatched to watch the Malahat June 17 and two days later she was relieved by the Cahokia, whose master had orders to see the Malahat did not land liquor. At night the cutters used their searchlights while circling the suspected vessel to make sure speedy rum craft were unable to glide up and load cargo from her holds.

The Malahat endured this surveillance until Monday, when she suddenly headed westward and steamed some 500 miles straight toward the place the Chinese wine had come from. Coastguard officials late last night expected her to steam slowly northward to-day, remaining about her present distance from the coast.

The Cahokia was said to have provisions enough to last forty days and her officers were determined to stick to the last in the "freezeout" game.

Boy, Rescued From Burning Ship Last Week, Is Drowned

Seattle, June 23.—Just one week after he had been rescued from a burning ship, Johnny Larsen, ten, was drowned here yesterday in Lake Union. The boy was the son of Capt. Chris. Larsen of the Alaska Herring Saltery Donna Lane, which caught fire at Point Wells last week while fueling.

Young Larsen was in a rowboat with Robert and Alex. Colvin whose father is also attached to the Donna Lane, the boys were apparently playing in the boat when Larsen suddenly toppled into the water, witnesses on shore said. The boat was about 100 feet from shore.

Sun and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots. How to Remove Easily.
Here's a chance, Miss Freckleface, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable concern that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes your freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling.

Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength—from any drug or department store and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case.

Be sure to ask for the double strength Othine as this strength is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove your freckles. (Adv.)

CREW OF QUADRA FAIL IN APPEAL

U.S. Superior Court Affirms Conviction of District Court in Rum-running Case

San Francisco, June 23.—The Quadra rum-running defendants yesterday lost their long fight against conviction of a conspiracy to violate the national prohibition act, when the United States district court here received the mandate of the United States superior court affirming their conviction and the sentences against them.

The men and their sentences are: Capt. George Ford, master of the Quadra, two years in a federal prison and $10,000 fine.

George Harris, first mate, thirteen months.
Joseph Ewell, second mate, ten months in the county jail.

Vincent Quarteraro, two years in a federal prison and $10,000 fine.
Charles Belanger, two years and $10,000 fine.

Immediately on receipt of the mandate from Washington, the court here issued commitments in the name of the five defendants. Quarteraro filed a writ of habeas corpus and the court granted it.

The authorities said Capt. Ford, who went to Los Angeles after being admitted to bail here, and was indicted there on a charge of acting as agent for the Consolidated Exporters Limited, a Canadian firm, had escaped to Canada.

Officials said steps toward his extradition were under way. The other defendants also were released on bail, but officials expected them to appear for commitment.

In that period they have never accepted aid of any kind, either vehicular or monetary, having earned their way by selling postcards and lecturing. They will sail from this port next week on the Maunganui to spend two years in New Zealand, Australia, India and Japan.

It has not been altogether a lark, but having started they have kept going. Malaria, hunger, hard work and disappointments have crossed their trail, but both admit that they have not had a thought of giving up.

IN AFRICA they were halted because of Mr. Leroux's sun-burnt and blistered knees. In Egypt, France and Belgium, which they entered without knowing the language, they were regarded with suspicion and in some cases abuse. Malaria, contracted in warmer countries, afflicted Mr. Leroux, and in Italy, which they reached with only eight cents in their pockets, they faced hunger, living on bread and coffee for days. In this period Mr. Leroux lost twenty-nine pounds.

Canada has been none too kind to these adventurers in the matter of climate, for it has taken them nearly two years to cross the Dominion. Encountering heavy snowfall and winter rains, they were forced to turn back. Mr. Leroux, who was in the cutter, was unable to make sure speedy rum craft were unable to glide up and load cargo from her holds.

The Malahat endured this surveillance until Monday, when she suddenly headed westward and steamed some 500 miles straight toward the place the Chinese wine had come from. Coastguard officials late last night expected her to steam slowly northward to-day, remaining about her present distance from the coast.

The Cahokia was said to have provisions enough to last forty days and her officers were determined to stick to the last in the "freezeout" game.

By lumber jacking, Mr. Leroux managed to make their finances for that winter, and once more they started on their way. Before the next winter they reached Yank in British Columbia, where they were again snowed in. Now they are in Vancouver, having covered 11,746 miles entirely on foot.

In another three years they will once more start out, but this time they will be with a fully equipped motor caravan, which will be devoted to visiting the places they have passed through on foot, lecturing and showing slides of their experiences. In the meantime they will write a book of their adventures.

It is claimed that this is the first expedition which has ever endeavored to circle the world on foot, and now that they are on the homeward stretch, both Mr. and Mrs. Leroux are apt to discount the many hardships and speak only of the glorious adventure, and the fact that they are accomplishing what they set out to do.

The Canadian-Australasian liner Maunganui will arrive here Saturday morning from Australia, and will sail again for the Antipodes next Wednesday.

LUMBER MARKET BRISK ON ORDERS FROM AUSTRALIA

Seattle, June 23.—With vessels of the fleet booked to capacity well into fall, and advance bookings being made as far ahead as December-January, the Pacific-Australian lumber trade of the American Trading Company is keeping up to standard, according to local headquarters of the firm.

The improvement is centered principally on Grays Harbor, where the carriers complete cargoes of redwood loaded in California with large shipments of Douglas fir.

Unlike other lumber markets, the demand is constant with a steady increase with orders being booked usually six months ahead. The redwood is used for interior finishing, only the best being shipped, while fir, which is sent in larger quantities, finds a ready market as an all purpose wood.

Vessels of the American Trading Company fleet, to load shortly, include the British steamship Gragnese, which arrived at Grays Harbor yesterday to complete for Sydney and Newcastle, and the motorship Estrella, due at the same port July 10. The Gragnese will sail for return June 29.

Chief Justice of Bermuda Will Sail South on Maunganui

Lake Louise, Alta., June 23.—Traveling from Bermuda to Australia, Sir Kenneth Beatty, Chief Justice from Hamilton, Bermuda, with Lady Beatty, arrived at Chateau, Lake Louise, yesterday morning. This is Sir Kenneth's first visit to Western Canada, and though his stay is brief he is endeavoring to see as much of the Rockies as possible by motor, though he finds the road between the mountains of the Rockies very difficult, bicycles only being allowed on the island. Sir Kenneth and Lady Beatty visited Emerald Lake yesterday and will reach Vancouver on Friday, sailing on the Maunganui on June 27.

Wrecked Freighter Is Sold For $1,050

San Francisco, June 23.—Steamship operators announced here yesterday that within ten days a meeting is to be called of representatives of concerns operating from Pacific Coast ports to ports on the Gulf of Mexico with a view toward creating a stabilization fund to insure a complete stabilization of rates, much to the satisfaction of both shipper and steamship owner. It is expected that the four Pacific Coast lines engaged in the trade, the Luckenbach, Redwood, Gulf Pacific and the Transmarine Corporation, will definitely select a meeting-place within a day or two.

The freighter Indiana Harbor, owned by Pillsbury and Curtis of San Francisco, and now plying to pieces on the rocks off the Mendocino coast, was sold yesterday to O. W. Clark and Company of Petrolia, Cal., for $1,050. The cargo of the vessel was sold for $2,000 to the same company.

A. J. McCarthy, manager of the Panama-Pacific Line, who arrived here Monday, left to-day for Los Angeles, where he will embark on the Pacific liner Finland for New York. The vessel is scheduled to sail from here Saturday.

The Oceanic liner Sierra, Capt. J. H. Traut, commanding, sailed today for Australia via Honolulu with a heavy cargo and a large passenger list.

New Poison Paint Will Relieve Ships' Barnacle Problems

French Lick Springs, Ind., June 23.—The pecky barnacle that fastens itself to boat bottoms will release its hold if a ship is covered with a recently formulated paint, the American Society for Testing Materials was informed yesterday.

H. E. Smith of New York City, vice-chairman of the society's committee on preservative coatings, said that the new paint would poison the barnacles, thus enabling the ship to travel faster on less fuel.

U.S. Naval Seaplane Crashes While Flying Between Crescent City and San Diego

San Diego, Calif., June 23.—Lieut. Commander William S. Hactor, operations officer of the North Island Naval Air Station, and Charles K. Robbins, aviation chief machinist's mate, are believed to have lost their lives by drowning, while Lieut. Thomas Fisher saved his life by swimming nine hours following the crash of a naval torpedo plane four miles off Laguna Beach at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday night. Details of the crash became known here yesterday on Fisher's arrival in San Diego.

A squadron of seaplanes and the destroyer MacDonough and Corry yesterday searched the area where the torpedo plane disappeared.

Lieut. Fisher, who assumes all the blame for the fatal crash said: "We left Crescent City at 1:15 p.m. Tuesday for San Diego in the Boeing torpedo plane. At about 8:30 p.m. while four miles off Laguna Beach the plane suddenly struck the surface of the sea. The plane sank in less than five minutes."

"The two pontoons came off and floated away. Hactor, Robbins and myself took off our parachutes and tore away the fuselage to find the life preservers which were stowed in a compartment aft."

"All three of us managed to cling to one of the pontoons, but this sank within five minutes as the bottom must have been badly damaged by the landing. The other pontoon floated away."

DISAPPEARED
"Robbins struck out for the shore first, closely followed by Hactor. I found not swim as fast and took it more leisurely. I could hear Hactor and Robbins encouraging each other. I was not able to get out of the water. At about 10:30 o'clock I failed to hear their voices. I never saw or heard them after that."

Commander Hactor was thirty-five years old. He was born in Nebraska and was appointed to the naval academy from Missouri in 1911.

Newport Beach, Cal., June 23.—A body believed that of Charles Robbins, civilian passenger on the seaplane, which crashed off Laguna Beach Tuesday night, floated to shore a mile south of the pier here yesterday. A bell buckle bore the initial "R" and a deep cut was visible on the forehead.

Arkansas Repairs Progress Rapidly; Will Load June 29

Seattle, June 23.—Repairing of the French liner Arkansas, damaged in a collision with the transmarine steamer Suenio, has progressed more rapidly than was expected. The carrier will start loading June 29. General Steamship Corporation officers said yesterday. Date for the completion of repairs had been fixed for July 2.

The Pacific-Australian lumber trade is booked to capacity as far ahead as December, American Trading Company officials declared. Movements centre from Grays Harbor, where carriers complete Californian redwood loadings with shipments of Douglas fir. The British steamship Gragnese is now loading at Grays Harbor for Sydney and Newcastle.

Capt. Fred R. Bunker and seven other officers and members of the crew of the steamship Baccarat, which they delivered to new owners in Japan, arrived to-day on the N.Y.K. liner Kaga Maru from the Orient on route to San Francisco.

With a passenger list of 202 the steamship Admiral Watson of the Pacific Steamship Company sailed yesterday for Southwestern Alaska.

FRUIT SHIPMENTS WIN CONCESSION

Refrigerator Cars of C.N.R. Handed Over E. and N. Line to Vancouver

Big Berry Crop Being Shipped to Prairies in Fine Condition

The first carload of freight consigned to prairie points over Canadian National lines from the E. and N. Railway terminal in Victoria will leave today. A refrigerated express car of Saanich and Gordon Head strawberries initiates this important improvement in Victoria's commercial facilities.

The Canadian Pacific Railway will handle the car to Vancouver and there transfer the shipment to the Canadian National lines. The extension of this concession by the Canadian Pacific Railway follows months of negotiations between the Canadian Fruit Distributors Limited and the Montreal head offices of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

The new service permits loading of Canadian National refrigerated cars at the pre-cooling plant operated by the Gordon Head and Saanich Fruitgrowers adjacent to the Canadian Pacific freight terminal.

Shipment of strawberries to prairie points has now been in progress for one week, eighteen cars having been dispatched. Shipments are now being made at the rate of three cars daily. Officials of the Co-operative Association estimate at least forty cars will be shipped to the prairies this season, compared with the thirty cars exported last year.

The picking season has this year been ideal for production of a heavy yield. There has been a steady maturity in fruit, which has been easily handled for shipment, avoiding glutting the local market with fruit ripened beyond shipping perfection.

Reports received from prairie centres show that Victoria berries are arriving in perfect condition at points as far distant as Winnipeg and Prince Albert. Prices are not quite as high as were earned last year.

No fruit has been picked for jam purposes this season, and little is expected to go into jams before next week.

Taxis equipped with new taximeters run from the transmission, rather than the front wheel, are more reliable, reports a taxi driver. The driver can't throw this type out of gear with a jack handle.

Kidneys Weak?

"Troubled for years with kidney trouble... thanks to Fruit-a-tive... able to do household duties without pain or fatigue."

Mrs. Thomas Evans, Everett, Ont.

"Fruit-a-tives", made from fresh fruit juices and tonic, can always be depended upon to relieve back-pain, rheumatism, lumbago, etc., caused by improper kidney, stomach or bowel action. 25c and 50c everywhere.

Engine Volume Tax

Now a tax is designed on the basis of engine volume, rather than horsepower. It is proposed by German auto manufacturers. It would be more equitable, they say, and yet the income from it would not be decreased.

This Magnetic Belt Is Giving Relief To Thousands

In Victoria, dozens of people who have been considered chronic invalids have found relief in this health-giving belt. Read what this man says:

Dear Sirs:—
For twenty years I have been suffering with stomach trouble, sleep was broken, and I felt irritable and depressed. Rheumatism also caused me considerable pain.
Four weeks ago I purchased one of your belts, and I can now enjoy any kind of food without ill-effects. I am brighter in every respect, and feel that life is worth living.

WANT BOARD TO DISCUSS RAISE

The appointment of a conciliation board, under Federal authority, to hear the case of the Victoria Fire Department on the request for a $10 per month increase asked from the city, was sought in a formal application to the City Council last night from T. A. Heslop, on behalf of Local 258 of the International Firefighters' Union. The request was referred to the city solicitor, fire warden and finance committee for report.

total bag limit, 150.
Coots—Daily bag limit, 25; total bag limit, 150.

The prohibitions declared by the Game Act, as to the buying, selling, and having in possession of big game, so far as they relate to game lawfully killed or taken, are removed to the extent and within the periods and limits and subject to the provisions hereinafter set out as follows:

(a) Moose and Caribou, bulls over one year of age in the Electoral Districts of Atlin and Cominca, from October 1, 1927, to December 15, 1927, both dates inclusive.

(b) Bear, in the eastern district, from September 1, 1927, to June 30, 1928, both dates inclusive.

NO OPEN SEASONS

The open seasons declared by the regulations will not apply to the following parts of the Province:

Kalen Island, in the Prince Rupert electoral district.
That portion of the Dewdney electoral district known as the Colony Farm.

The portions of the District Municipality of Burnaby known respectively as the Oakalla Prison Farm and Central Park.

Between high-water mark on Vancouver Island and a line drawn as follows:—Commencing at Brecken Point, Departure Bay, near the City of Nanaimo; thence in an easterly direction to the most westerly point on Newcastle Island; thence southeasterly to the most easterly point on Newcastle Island; thence in a westerly direction to Stevens and Wright's shingle mill on Vancouver Island.

That portion of the Nelson district described as follows:—Commencing on the north shore of the West Arm of Kootenay Lake at Willow Point Wharf; thence following the north shore of Duhamel or Six-mile Creek Roads to the intersection of the said Duhamel Creek Road with the First West Fork of Duhamel Creek; thence following the said West Fork to its source; thence in a southerly direction following the divide between Duhamel Creek and the West Arm of Kootenay Lake and Grohman Creek to the mouth of the said Grohman Creek; thence across the West Arm of Kootenay Lake to the south shore of the said West Arm to a point known as the slaughter-house; thence following the south shore of the said West Arm in an easterly direction to a point opposite Willow Point Wharf; thence across the said West Arm to the point of commencement.

The open seasons declared by the regulations will not apply to the hunting, taking, or having in possession of quail, pheasants, prairie-chicken (sharp-tailed grouse), or partridge at any place within the surface of the ground at that place is wholly or partly covered with snow.

Under the new rules "no person shall use a power-booster or airplane to disturb any migratory birds with the intent of driving such birds toward any person who is lying in wait for the purposes of shooting, killing or taking such migratory game birds."

Federal Government, and ask for the usual subsidy on behalf of the company, open to plants operating on a scale of published tariffs. The site required would be 350 feet by 200 feet, with a building clearance in addition of fifty feet from the lot lines.

COVERED BY INSURANCE
Arrangements for the operating contact between the city and the company are also provided for by way of inspection and notification, etc. The city would be indemnified by insurance for loss by fire or damage claims affecting it monetarily.

Local white labor would be employed in building the plant, the company taking a direct obligation to that end. The usual fair wage clause is also included. The warehouse would be built of concrete and steel, and equipped with the latest machinery and devices for the operation of such a plant. In default of the agreement, the lease, site and all rights would revert to the city and the agreement be terminated. The company would agree to operate the facility continuously, as reasonable, during the period of agreement, as a general port utility handling any and all commodities offering, and as a licensed extra-provincial company of the Province. Failure of the electors to approve the by-law would render the agreement void, even though it secured council ratification, recites the closing terms of the measure.

Proposed in committee, a clause providing for rebuilding and operation in case of fire, will be added to the by-law before it receives final council consideration. After passing first and second readings without major change the by-law was tabled, the committee reporting progress and arranging to sit again at 3.30 p.m. Thursday for further revision. A little before midnight the council adjourned.

Movie Workers' Salaries Are Cut

Los Angeles, June 23.—The first economy move in the motion picture industry, which it is predicted ultimately will have far reaching effects, came to-day in the form of a ten per cent. cut in all salaries which now averaged fifty dollars a week, announced by Jesse L. Lasky for the Paramount-Famous Players-Lasky organization.

Sooke

Sooke, June 23.—Jess Hawkins is on a five-day visit to his home.

Mrs. Philip Snape and family have been visiting in Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. Woods, recent guests of Colonel and Mrs. Hobroyd, have returned to their home in Calgary.

The annual school picnic will be held on the Sooke River flats on Saturday. This year only two schools, North Sooke and Sooke Superior, will participate in the day's events. The one of these making the higher aggregate in the sports, in proportion to the size of the school, will be awarded the handsome perpetual challenge trophy, presented to the picnic committee by Tommy Wright. Otter Point will not partake in the competitions this year, owing to the baby show which is being held at Poirer's Beach on the same day as the picnic.

This year there will be a nail-driving contests for the ladies. Embroidery and penmanship of the gentler sex are asked to bring along their own tools. Axes and hatchets will be strictly prohibited. If it is possible to compete arrangements for the same, a soft ball game between the married men and their more fortunate friends will be staged. Ladies of the district are asked to bring a cake or sandwiches to the picnic.

Boys' or Girls' $1.49

Men's or Ladies' $1.89

I want one of those Bathing Suits at $2.98, the same as I got last week for my wife, and I say, fellows, they are all right. Get that now—he said they were all right. What in the name of Sam Hill did he think they were, all wrong! They are high-grade elastic knit all-wool, specially fashioned for men or ladies, big variety of colors. They were originally five bones, but since people are poor buying gas, tires, oil, etc., they are now $2.98

Good heavens! Why didn't my old dad give me a profession instead of this miserable jaw wagging job of selling toys; pacifying the mob of flicker, fuzzy bazaar hunters with a bait of cry or SALE! SALE! SALE! Why don't doctors and other glorified guys have sales and advertise—Dad's the stuff, advertise—something like this.

Dr. Chopper, M.D., Dr. Fear and Woe Specialist, Dr. Cracker, Chiropractor, Stunning Adjustment Sale, Three Fables for One Dollar, No Exchanges.

How's this for a Bone Fuser—Dr. Cracker, Chiropractor, Stunning Adjustment Sale, Three Fables for One Dollar, No Exchanges.

Our loving friend the dentist—Dr. Vancker, Dentist—Rip, Roaring Sale, Bandage Distractions, All Shapes and Sizes, Regular Price $1.00. 49c.
